VOL. CIII., NO. 591 — VICTORIA, B. C., FRIDAY, AUGUST 25, 1911 — TWENTY PAGES

WHAT THE ELECTORS WANT TO KNOW

To the Rev. W. W. Baer

In the local Liberal campaign among the speakers announced is the name of the Rev. W. W. Baer. To him according to an announcement appearing in the Victoria Times, is assigned the task of answering all questions dealing with reciprocity. We have asked either the Hon. W. Templeman or Mr. Duncan Ross to explain the irreconcilability of statements made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier with reference to his attitude on the question of Canadian Trade. Up to the present neither of these gentlemen have replied. These questions are among those upon which the electors of this city seek enlightenment and we now ask the Rev. W. W. Baer to make his explanation on the following points which are again reproduced for his benefit.

Why did Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the Imperial Conference of 1907 give the following account of the attitude of Canada and its Government:

"So far as legislation can influence trade we have done everything possible to push our trade toward the British people as against the American people . . . Not only have we done it by preference, by legislation, but we have forced our trade against the laws of nature and geography. . . . We have done everything possible by building canals and subsidizing railways to bring the trade from the west to the east and east to the west so as to bring trade into British channels. . . . It never was intended nor thought of at the time that this intermediate tariff could apply to the United States. There was a time when we wanted reciprocity with them, but our efforts and our offers were negatived and put aside, and we have said good-bye to that trade, and we have put all our hopes on British trade now.

And will the Rev. W. W. Baer explain to the satisfaction of the electors of Victoria the words of President Taft which we also reproduce:

"I have said that this was a critical time in the solution of the question of reciprocity. It is critical because unless it is now decided favorably to reciprocity, it is exceedingly probable that no such opportunity will ever again come to the United States. The forces which are at work in England and Canada to separate her by a Chinese wall from the United States, and to make her part of an imperial commercial band reaching from England around the world to England again by a system of preferential tariffs, will derive an impetus from the rejection of this treaty, and if we would have reciprocity, with all the advantages that I have described, and that I earnestly and sincerely believe will follow its adoption, we must take it now, or give it up forever."

There are three further utterances of Sir Wilfrid Laurier which should be explained to the electors, if they are to believe that the Prime Minister is sincere in his desire for reciprocity between Canada and the United States. Perhaps the Rev. W. W. Baer will tell us why in 1898 Sir Wilfrid said:

"Canada today is not in favor of reciprocity. There was a time when Canadians, beginning with myself, would have given many things to obtain the American market, but thank heaven these days are past and over."

And why in 1899 Sir Wilfrid Laurier said:

"If we know the hearts and minds of our people at present, I think I am not making too wide a statement when I say that the general feeling in Canada today is not in favor of reciprocity. There was a time when Canadians would have given many things to obtain the American market, there was a time not long ago when the market of the great cities of the union was the only market we had for any of our products. But thank heaven these days are past and over now. We are not dependent upon the American market as we were at one time."

And why again in 1908, addressing the imperial conference, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said:

"There was a time when we were wanting reciprocity with the United States, but our efforts and our offers were put aside and negatived. We have said good-bye to that trade and we now put all our hopes on the British trade."

And we would further ask the Rev. W. W. Baer to explain to the electors of the city of Victoria how it is that in the face of these utterances of Sir Wilfrid's he has been lead to make such a volte face and to depart from a policy which he has found occasion again and again to reiterate not only to Canadians but to the people of the British Empire?

Has Canada grown less prosperous that "the days" which Sir Wilfrid thanked Heaven were past and over have come again?

Will the Rev. W. W. Baer explain why in giving as a reason for the building of the National Transcontinental Railway Sir Wilfrid Laurier said:—

"I have found in the short experience during which it has been my privilege and my fortune to be placed at the head of affairs, by the will of the Canadian people, that the best and most effective way to maintain friendship with our American neighbors is to be absolutely independent of them."

And will the Rev. W. W. Baer explain why the Hon. W. S. Fielding was so moved to admiration by the foregoing sentiment of Sir Wilfrid's that he expressed himself thus:

"There was no part of the eloquent speech of my hon. friend that I admired more than his statement to the effect that the best possible way to live on friendly terms with our brothers to the south of us is to have them understand that we are determined to be absolutely independent of them."

And will the Rev. W. W. Baer explain to the electors of Victoria if there is even a semblance of truth in the words of the Hon. Samuel McCall, an American statesman of profound ability and insight, when he said:

"Add to the tremendous influence that is pulling the two countries together the entangling web that is woven by reciprocal trade, and the inevitable day will be more quickly reached when the two countries shall be politically one."

Three more questions to the Rev. W. W. Baer upon which we believe that the people, not only of this city, but of all Canada require enlightenment. They are:

"Will the Reciprocity pact force Canadian trade into Canadian channels according to the ideas of Sir Wilfrid Laurier when he defended the building of the National Transcontinental Railway?

"Will Reciprocity promote citizenship between Old Canada and New Canada?

"Will Reciprocity secure to Canada her commercial independence?"

Resist to the Utmost

"I therefore need scarcely state my firm belief, that the prosperity of Canada depends upon its permanent connection with the Mother Country, and that I shall resist to the utmost any attempt (from whatever quarter it may come) which may tend to weaken that union."

—From Sir John Macdonald's first electoral address.

Canada's Destiny

"Never before in the history of the Empire has Canada loomed so large in the eyes of Britons as it does now. Never has so general and so intelligent an interest in her affairs been made more plainly manifest. It seems to me that with the very large number of prominent Canadians at the coronation and the prominence that Canadian interests have latterly assumed in the Old Land, our importance as a factor in the Empire was never before so strongly accentuated. The people of the Motherland realize that while they are wealthier than we and have more to show in established civilization for their greater age and consequent perfected maturity, yet in natural resources and all the true potentialities of strong nationhood, Canada presents the evidence that it must some day become the dominant factor in the Greater British Empire. And in the working out of this great destiny, we do not want to disappoint our kinsfolk of the Motherland. We want to send them a message on the 21st of September that they will understand as clear and unmistakeable—that we are as Canadians still firm and strong for the Empire, that we are going to keep as our flag the good old Union Jack, that we are determined to preserve our dominion for that great future that nature has mapped out for it."—Premier McBride.

A Liberal's Statement

In the Victoria Times of yesterday appears the following: "I think British Columbia stands to benefit more by the effects of reciprocity than any of the other provinces of the Dominion.' So says Robert Dinsdale, contractor in the city of Victoria, who has just returned from an extended visit to the Old Country, and who has been quoted, or rather misquoted, as an anti-reciprocity advocate."

What the Colonist quoted Mr. Dinsdale as saying, and all that it quoted him as saying was the following, a copy of which, signed by Mr. Robert Dinsdale, was left with the Colonist prior to its publication in this paper:

"During my return trip across Canada I found public opinion to be much against the proposed reciprocity agreement; the reasons expressed for it being that Canada should preserve its own raw resources and develop its own territory, free from exploitation territory, free from the exploitation of the wealthy trusts of the United States. It was argued that the immense combinations of capital would speedily swamp Canadian enterprises. It is very doubtful if the agreement will carry.—(Signed) R. Dinsdale."

Mr. Dinsdale is a member of the central executive of the Liberal association of Victoria and heretofore an aggressive worker in the ranks of the supporters of the Laurier government

PREMIER READY TO SEEK REST

In Speech at St. Jerome, Que., Sir Wilfrid Says He Will Retire if Defeated at Coming Election

"REST TO ME IS VERY SWEET"

Considers That With His Age and Record He Has Earned Right to Retire—His Plea for Reciprocity

ST. JEROME, Que., Aug. 24.—In the midst of his speech here today, and just at the conclusion of a vehement attack upon the Nationalists, in which he repudiated statements that service in the navy would be obligatory and that the naval bill was just another scheme to gain him more honors from England, Sir Wilfrid Laurier startled his audience by announcing that if defeated in the coming election he would retire at once and forever from public life, and would not lead the opposition in the next parliament.

"Rest to me is very sweet now," said the premier, "and if defeated not a word of reproach will pass my lips."

Sir Wilfrid stated that if he were twenty years younger he would continue in parliamentary life whether the Liberals or Conservatives gained the victory, but that with his age and with his record, he considered that he had well earned a rest.

Sir Wilfrid in his address dealt with the same topics which he has handled at all his meetings in this province. He spoke of the prosperity which Canada has been experiencing and empha-

TUG IS MISSING WITH ALL CREW

Midland, Ont., Vessel Thought to have Sunk During Storm on Georgian Bay, with Ten People on Board

SEARCHING PARTIES FIND NO TRACE

BYNG INLET, Ont., Aug. 24.—The barge Albatross, of Midland, Capt. Dean, foundered in the Georgian Bay off French river, on Monday night and it is feared that the tug C. C. Martin, of Midland, Capt. Vent, which had the barge in tow, has gone to the bottom also. The tug carried besides the captain and his wife, a crew of eight.

Those on board the barge reached Byng Inlet this morning. The shipwrecked party included Captain Dean, his wife, his niece, Mrs. Alex. Buchanan, of Moose Jaw, her two children, Miss Clementine Labelle, of Ottawa, and one sailor named Joseph St. Peter.

The barge sprang a leak and was fast sinking when all on board managed to pile into the small yawl before the vessel sank. She was in tow of the tug as she settled and this circumstance leads Capt. Dean to believe that in foundering she drew the tug down with her.

As soon as the survivors of he Albatross reported their battle with the storm, searching parties went out for trace of the Martin. They returned this afternoon without success. The yawl which reached the lighthouse carrying two men, three women and two children, a girl of two years and a boy of two months, bore evidence of a terrific battle with the elements.

The craft had been buffeted for thirty-six hours, and its occupants had had no food since the Albatross went down. Some of them are said to be dangerously ill.

After the line between the Martin and the Albatross parted on Monday afternoon, all hands aboard the Albatross made ready to leave the ship. The thirteen-foot yawl was launched and the two women and babies were put aboard. The men had scarcely time to jump in and cast loose when the vessel sank. When all trace of the Martin had been lost, Captain Dean, of the Albatross, rigged a makeshift sail and headed for French river. Not until dusk Tuesday was the French river lightship sighted.

No Sunday Luncheon

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 24.—So many protests against what has been described as Sabbath-desecration in the giving of a luncheon to Admiral Togo on his arrival here Sunday next, have been received by the city council that that body this evening decided to abandon the proposed function and to confine itself to the prezentation of an address of welcome when the distinguished visitor reaches the depot.

"VOLUNTARY SERVICE"

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Description of Canadian Navy's Relation to Cause of Empire.

SOREL, Que., Aug. 24.—Three thousand people heard Sir Wilfrid Laurier discuss reciprocity, the navy bill and the Nationalists at the last meeting of the Liberals here yesterday. No reference was made to the Lanctot affair, but the premier endorsed the candidature of Arthur Cardin, who was chosen by the Liberal convention here in place of Adelard Lanctot, the late member. Referring to the opposition, he ridiculed the "horrid alliance," which he said, had but one thought, that being to beat Laurier. On the navy question he spoke at length, emphasizing the fact that the service would be entirely voluntary and had always been intended to be such.

Crisis in New South Wales Leads to Extraordinary Scenes in House—Liberals Object to Speakership Move

MEMBERS INDULGE IN FIST FIGHTS

Supporter of Government Injured When Leaving House and Will be Unable to Return to Duty

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 24.—The New South Wales government, at the head of which is Mr. McGowen, has not long held the advantage of the majority of one which it secured as the result of the recent by-elections which followed the withdrawal of the resignation handed in when the Premier was en route from England.

Riotous scenes occurred today when Mr. Willis, one of the disgruntled Liberals, was made speaker of the House by the labor ministry, which was desirous by this means of retaining its majority. Members objecting to the proceeding, called each other "liars," "scoundrels" and "rogues." Blows were freely struck, and for a time in the chamber pandemonium reigned. One member of the Liberal party called the speaker a "Judas."

Finally the House adjourned amidst intense disorder. Making his way from the legislative building, one of the labor members fell, fracturing his pelvis. He was hastily removed to a hospital, where it was found that he would not be likely to resume duty in the House for many weeks.

OKLAHOMA MOB BURNS NEGRO

Brutal Assailant of White Woman Captured by Crowd, Thrown Upon Pile of Brush, and Cremated

MEN AND WOMEN IN AUTOS LOOK ON

PURCELL, Okla., Aug. 24.—Carter, the negro identified as the man who attacked Mrs. Minnie Spraggings and set fire to her home near here last night, was burned to death by a mob in the main street of Purcell late today. Three thousand persons witnessed the negro's death. Under-sheriff Farris and Deputy-sheriff Mayes made desperate efforts to prevent the burning of the negro, but the mob locked the officers in the court house.

While men and women looked on, a few men soaked a brush pile with coal oil and then poured oil upon the negro, who was thrown upon the brush. A torch was then applied to the fagots and a blaze shot up, hiding the screaming negro from view. His body was burned to a crisp.

The negro was caught by three other blacks this afternoon, near the Oklahoma Central railway station, as he was preparing to leave Purcell. Houghley Henry, a negro janitor at the court house, found him hiding under a car. Assisted by two other negroes who had armed themselves and joined in the search for Carter, Henry took the alleged assailant to the main street of Purcell and turned him over to the crowd, which had gathered.

The officers were allowed to talk to the crowd and were led to the court house, presumably to confer with the leaders. As they entered a room in the building the key was turned in the lock and they were held prisoners until the negro was dead. The negro was led out and placed on the brush piled around a telephone pole. He was tied to the pole and the torch applied.

The crowd cheered as the flames licked his face, and men and women in autos watched him die.

Mrs. Spraggings was able to tell the story of the crime today. She said Carter entered her home at 9 o'clock last night and struck her on the head with a piece of gas pipe, knocking her down. He beat her nearly into insensibility and then attacked her. Finally, he tore up a mattress, scattered it over her body and touched a match to it, fleeing from the house. When she began to crawl from the blazing mattress the negro returned. Kneeling beside her, he again beat her with the gas pipe, breaking her jaw bone. When the negro again left the house she managed to crawl to a bench outside the house, and lay beneath it. Mrs. Spraggings is not expected to live.

STEAMER MAY SINK

Saginaw Picked Up Off Capt Blanco and Attempt Made to Tow Her to Marshfield.

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Aug. 24.—A wireless message from the steamer Redondo, which left here at noon today, says she picked up the steamer Saginaw in a sinking condition off Cape Blanco late this afternoon. The Redondo is now headed for Coos Bay, and the tug Gleaner has been sent out to help bring the Saginaw in here.

The Saginaw carries a crew of twenty-six.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—It is doubtful if the Saginaw can be kept afloat until she reaches a harbor, according to a wireless message received at the Merchants' Exchange late tonight from Captain McGee, of the Redondo. The message reads:

"Off Coos Bay bar, dense fog. Uncertain if can keep Saginaw afloat until morning."

PACIFIC ROADS MAY HAVE STRIKE

Demand of Shop Workers for Recognition of Federal Organization is Rejected by Companies

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—A long conference between Vice-President Julius Kruttschnit, of the Union and Southern Pacific railroads, and J. W. Kline, international president of the blacksmith's union, was held here today without any steps being taken toward a settlement of the difficulties involving 25,000 shop employees of the Harriman lines. Both Vice-President Kruttschnit and Kline declined to discuss what was done at the conference, but it is said that the refusal of the railroad to recognize the federated labor organizations instead of individual unions was considered at length.

It is said that Vice-President Kruttschnit followed instructions of the directors of the lines in refusing to yield to the demands of the shopmen for recognition of the federal organization.

Mr. Kruttschnit said: "I met Mr. Kline today and we had a pleasant talk. I am always glad to meet representatives of our workmen, but I must decline to talk about what was done at the conference."

Shortly after the meeting Mr. Kruttschnischnit left for the west, where he will spend two weeks investigating the labor situation. He will visit Omaha, Ogden, San Francisco and other cities, and may confer with labor leaders at San Francisco next Wednesday. The roads involved in the present dispute are the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Central Pacific, Oregon Short Line, Houston and Texas Central, Oregon Railroad and Navigation company, and San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt-Lake railroad.

Shop workers of the Illinois Central railroad have also presented similar requests for recognition.

President Kline in outlining the position of the shopmen said: "June 6 last a committee of workers on the Harriman lines met in Salt Lake City to form a federation of the members of the various mechanical crafts under railroad managements. A number of railroads have already recognized some federations, among them the Wabash road, the Gould lines and the Hawley lines.

"The organization was formed for protection and in the interest of economy and convenience. It should be easier to deal with one joint committee than with a dozen. The Harriman lines refused to recognize the federated body.

"That is all the men are asking. The question of wages is not involved. Since the federation was formed the men active in the movement have been discriminated against, and many have been laid off without just cause. I am informed. The situation is grave. I have received a number of telegrams from officers of different unions asking for permission to strike.

SITUATION LOOKS WELL IN EAST

Mr. Borden's Tour of Ontario Has Told Effectively for the Conservative Cause—Goes Now to Quebec

MINISTER GRAHAM'S SEAT UNCERTAIN

Bitterness Between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Nationalists—Deferred Elections in B. C. Not Necessary

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—There is to be no deferred election in the Kootenay; this much is made definite tonight. Nominations will be made ten days ahead of the general date, being held on September 4th, instead of the 14th. It seems probable that a somewhat similar course will be followed, if necessary, to avoid postponement of the elections in Comox-Atlin and Yale-Cariboo.

Voters' lists will all be out of the printing bureau by the end of next week, with the exception of those from Brandon and Winnipeg and the unorganized districts of Ontario, which are under revision by judges.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's anti-Bourassa campaign in Quebec is being carried on with great bitterness. The premier has got down to the free use of common invectives in the personal attack on Mr. Bourassa, his attitude being apparently the result of the waning confidence in his hold upon Quebec. He has thrown Adelard Lanctot to the wolves in Richelieu.

The Nationalists have treated the Laurier tour in Quebec with marked political astuteness. They gave the prime minister the free right of way and left him a clear field and made no effort to break up his meetings, but rather proffered to give him rope. Next week Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be in the Maritime provinces, and Mr. Bourassa will be again lighting up the fires in the province, following Sir Wilfrid's trail with the first meeting on Sunday at Ste. Juniene de Montcalm.

Mr. R. L. Borden will also be in Quebec going from Montreal to the Eastern Townships. The week of September 4 will see Sir Wilfrid back in Ontario for half a dozen meetings, after which he goes back again to Quebec. A tour of Ontario is being mapped out for Hon. W. S. Fielding.

Hon. Clifford Sifton will be back in Ontario about the same time as Sir Wilfrid Laurier, after speaking in the Maritime provinces, and will address meetings at Perth on September 6th; Cobourg, September 7th; Oshawa, September 8th; Weston, September 9th; Aylmer, Sept. 11th; Stratford, September 12th; Newmarket, September 13th; and Windsor, September 16th.

Anti-reciprocity arguments presented to the Ontario electors by Mr. Borden have unquestionably left a deep impression. Prominent Liberals were on his platform in Toronto, in which city only one Liberal has yet made his appearance in all of the five ridings. In Hon. George Graham's riding of Brockville a bombshell has burst in the published appeal for all Liberals to reject the reciprocity agreement.

At Conservative headquarters officials laugh at the reports of the prospective defeat of R. L. Borden in Halifax. John W. Regan, president of the Nova Scotia Conservatives, in a letter to George H. Perley, chief whip of the party, declares Mr. Borden's election beyond doubt.

In some of the farming communities of Ontario the failure of the Farmers' Bank, which cost the farmers of several counties hundreds of thousands of dollars, is being discussed by the opposition and may lose the Government many votes. The alleged laxity of the finance minister is being used as an argument against the government.

Mr. Borden at Peterboro

PETERBORO, Ont., Aug. 24.—Quoting from a pamphlet issued by the association of Minnesota manufacturers, Mr. R. L. Borden argued that the citizens of the United States were eager for the consummation of the reciprocity agreement because of the impetus it was expected to give to their manufac-

REPORTS TELL OF SWEEPING VICTORY

Canvas of Various Wards Show Conservative Strength Will Result in Mr. Barnard's Election

As the canvass of the city by Conservative workers progresses, the certainty of a great and sweeping victory at the polls on the 21st of next month becomes more and more apparent. From every committee come most encouraging advices and with the magnificent organization which the party possesses, the predictions are made not only as to a victory, but to one which will be truly indicative of the Conservative strength in this riding. The machinery of organization is working most smoothly, the canvass is leaving not an elector outside its scope and the result is a foregone conclusion.

There was a large attendance at Ward Three committee meeting last evening at the central committee rooms, when reports of workers were received and the organization in that subdivision further improved. Tonight Ward One workers will hold a committee meeting in the Broad street hall at 7:30 p. m. and at 8 o'clock Ward One Conservatives will hold a public meeting in the same place to which all Conservatives are invited. Mr. G. H. Barnard, the Conservative candidate, and Mr. William Blakemore will speak, and others will also address the electors.

On Monday night the grand rally of Conservatives will be held in the Victoria theatre, when besides the candidate, Premier McBride, the provincial ministers and other leaders of the party will speak.

Ward Two electors will hold a public meeting in Broad Street hall on Wednesday evening next, at 8 o'clock.

So far the location of the various ward polling places has not yet been fixed. Returning Officer Bannerman is seeking suitable quarters, but these will not be announced for some days at least.

In consequence of this occurrence the ministry is at the mercy of the opponents. Whether the general election, to which the Liberal party has been endeavoring to force the government to consent, will now be held, cannot be prophesied. Mr. McGowen is an astute leader, and is not likely to go out of power until he is absolutely compelled to.

He reviewed the history of reciprocity and closed with a discussion of the navy bill and a reply to the Nationalists, which led up to the announcement of his retirement in case of defeat.

CAUGHT IN STORM

Secretary Fisher Unable to Reach Katalla by Launch from Mouth of Bering River

CORDOVA, Alaska, Aug. 24.—Secretary of the Interior Walter L. Fisher and his party were caught in a terrific storm that is sweeping over Controller bay and made a landing tonight at Peter point, at the mouth of the Bering river. It is believed they are camping there, although they may have decided to walk over the hills to Katalla, five miles away.

The storm broke early this morning and increased in fury as the day advanced. Controller bay, unprotected from the storm, was lashed into a heavy sea. The wind swept up Bering river, down which Secretary Fisher and the ten others in his party were coming on their return from an inspection of the famous Cunningham coal claims. The trip down the river was a rough one, and when the launch reached the mouth of the stream it was seen that it would be a dangerous undertaking to cross the turbulent roadstead. After a consultation it was decided to land the party at Pete point.

After they were put ashore, the captain of the launch, who is accustomed to the storms that frequently sweep up from the Gulf of Alaska, made a dash for Katalla alone. After a dangerous trip he reached his destination with the news that Secretary Fisher had been safely landed. The launch captain did not know whether Mr. Fisher would spend the night camping at Pete point or would undertake a night tramp over the hills to town.

The revenue cutter Tahoma is anchored in Controller bay, off Katalla, and is severely buffetted by the storm. Efforts were made to take mail out to the cutter today, but the sea was so rough the small boat could not approach. The storm showns no sign of abating. As long as it continues at its present height Secretary Fisher will be unable to board the Tahoma.

The cutter is anchored near the point where the steamship Portland was wrecked last year, and while the storm lasts does not dare approach nearer the treacherous shore.

NEARLY DROWNED

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 24.—Hugh A. Robinson escaped death this afternoon when the propeller of his hydroplane broke at the moment when he was about to rise into the air. The fragments torn off the rear end of the machine cut deeply into the pontoon. The machine sank into the water, capsizing as it went. Robinson crawled upon the broken pontoon, which was rocking in the waves. Boats finally passed a line to him, and the machine and drenched operator were towed to safety. The accident occurred at 4 o'clock. Robinson's flight being one of the features of the centennial celebration.

Robinson says the Triad, as he terms it, will be ready for flight again Saturday.

turing industries. Canada was to be allowed to produce the raw materials and to perform the primary stages of their manufacture. The United States was to build up the more highly developed industries, turning out the finished product.

The Conservative leader placed his case against reciprocity before eighteen hundred persons who crowded into the grand opera house with his usual earnestness and eloquence. He pointed to the danger to Canadian unity and to the best interests of the British empire lurking behind the proposals of the government, and he told his audience that if all the reports were true, thousands of Liberals would burst the bonds of party discipline in order to save their country from those dangers.

Canada should enter into reciprocal trade arrangements with countries like the West Indies, producing things which Canada does not produce and requiring commodities which Canada had to offer. The government should seek to make tariff arrangements with her customers and not with her competitors, said Mr. Borden. He declared that the unfortunate result of the action of the government in negotiating the present agreement was to awaken the United States to the belief that Canadians desired to transform their country into a state of the American Union.

Prompt Nominations

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—One of the striking differences between the present elections and the electoral contest of three years ago is that the opposition candidates are in the field early. Mr. Papineau Mathieu, the French secretary, announced this evening that three years ago at nomination day twelve counties were taken care of by forwarding the amount of their deposits to twelve stop gaps to prevent the government from carrying those counties by acclamation. Today almost every Conservative candidate is in the field. Mr. Randolphe Forget returned from Charlevois today and declares that if Sir Wilfrid Laurier comes back to power it will be by the English votes. French Canadians are almost unanimously hostile to the reciprocity agreement. If the English do not vote against the pact they should never again talk about loyalty, declares Mr. Forget.

Rescued from Wreck.

PERIM, Arabia, Aug. 24.—The British steamer Warwickshire, passing here today, signalled that all of the thirty passengers and crew who were missing from the steamer Fifeshire when she was wrecked at the entrance to the Gulf of Eden two weeks ago, have been rescued.

GAME REGULATIONS ON VANCOUVER ISLAND

Open Season for Grouse and Quail Commences on September 15th and for Pheasants on October 1st.

Considerable speculation having recently been indulged in by Vancouver Island sportsmen with respect to the dates of opening and the length period of the shooting season on this and immediately contiguous islands, it is learned semi-authoritatively that the declaration of the seasons arranged merely awaits ratification by the essential order-in-council, which in its turn, has awaited the resumption of his official duties by Attorney General Bowser on his return to the Capital.

It may be fairly relied upon, however, that the deer season will be as last year; while with respect to birds, hunters may make their preparations for inaugurating the campaign against the grouse and quail on September 15th, pheasants also becoming legitimate spoil of the game on October 1st.

The explanation of why the order with respect to Vancouver Island was not passed simultaneously with that declaring the seasons for the Mainland, is said to be that information with respect to conditions among the Island birds was rather later coming on—and meanwhile Attorney General Bowser had gone to the Home Land.

While there was a partially closed season in several Island districts for grouse, pheasants and quail last year, it is believed that the result is such an abundant increase that—largely by the suggestion of the farmers, who report the birds a nuisance in various close-in districts—no special exemptions will this year be found necessary.

Chief Game Warden A. Bryan-Williams has also received reports that the pheasants on Hornby and Denman islands are at present unusually plentiful, and it is therefore probable also that the season will be open on these islands for the fine bird mentioned.

Use of Kirby Fund—The fund recently raised by the Rev. E. G. Miller of St. Barnabas church, on behalf of the widow, Mrs. A. C. Kirby, is being put to useful purposes. A portion of the money has been utilized for the purchase of a house and lot at 1137 North Park street, where Mrs. Kirby will make her home and will be in a position to let a number of furnished rooms. It will be remembered that a sum of close upon $2,000 was raised to aid Mrs. Kirby, who was deprived of her husband and left penniless, under unusually distressing circumstances.

YACHTSMEN ARRANGE LABOR DAY CRUISE

Arrangements are now being completed for an inter-club yacht cruise and meet between the members of the royal yacht clubs of Victoria and Vancouver. The event will take place on Labor Day, September 4th, and yachts will leave their respective club houses and proceed to Montague harbor, a charming spot situated just north of Active pass, where the meeting will take place.

Judging from the keenness existing amongst the members of the two clubs regarding the cruise, the event promises to be a very enjoyable and successful one, and will doubtless do much to stimulate the interest in local yachting.

All members of the Royal Victoria are cordially invited to participate in the cruise and those desiring to enter will be able to do so by communicating with the secretary-treasurer of the club, Captain H. G. Jarvis, Bridgman building.

RUSH FOR GOLD

Placer Strike at McClintock Creek Causes Partial Depopulation of Skagway

SKAGWAY, Alaska, Aug. 24.—Skagway has gone wild over the reported discovery of a great placer gold field near Lake Marsh, Yukon Territory. A stampede is in full swing from here, and this morning's train was crowded with prospectors, experienced and inexperienced. Among those who joined the rush was Dr. Griffith, a wealthy Chicago dentist, who came here to visit friends.

The shops of the White Pass and Yukon railroad are short of help as a result of the stampede, many of the machinists having joined the dock laborers, clerks and professional men who laid aside their regular occupations to seek the yellow metal.

Telegraphic reports received today indicate that the strike is genuine.

BURNED IN SHAFT

Seven Men Die in Nevada Mine When Fire Breaks Out—Three Others Badly Injured.

ELY, Nev., Aug. 24.—Seven men met death and three others were seriously injured early today in a fire which swept the new five-compartment shaft of the Giroux Consolidated Mines company here. Two bodies remain in the workings, but there is little hope of finding the men alive. Both shafts of the mine have been sealed in order to smother the flames. The fire was caused, it is believed, by the explosion of a barrel of oil at the pumping station on the 1,200 foot level of the new shaft. Ten men were working at the 1,400 foot level at the time, and these looked up to see the shaft above them filled up with flames.

ROME, Aug. 23.—Torrential rains, accompanied by high winds, have devastated the rich province of Lombardy. Many houses have been blown down and some fatalities have resulted. Bridges have been carried away and enormous [illegible] have been done to vineyards.

CONSERVATIVES IN FIGHTING TRIM

Will Wage Spirited and Aggressive Campaign — Public Meeting at Which Premier McBride will Speak

Determining to wage a spirited and aggressive campaign from now on until the last vote has been polled on the evening of September 21, the Conservatives of Victoria, who have undertaken the task of securing the re-election of Mr. G. H. Barnard to the House of Commons by a big majority, have outlined a programme which, while it means much hard work on the rank and file of the party, nevertheless is being taken up with the greatest enthusiasm. The Broad street hall will be available for ward meetings and other gatherings during the period the campaign lasts, having been leased by the Conservatives for that purpose. This evening Ward One workers will hold a meeting in that hall. All those members resident in Victoria West, Rock Bay district and north of the Gorge road are invited to attend this meeting, as well as all those in sympathy with the Conservative cause.

On Monday evening next the first of the series of public meetings to be held in support of the candidature of Mr. Barnard will be held in the Victoria theatre. Col. Prior will occupy the chair and the chief speakers will be Hon. Richard McBride, Wm. Blakemore and the candidate. Seats will be reserved for ladies, who are cordially invited to attend.

Liberals contend that Conservatives ought not to wave the Old Flag in this election. No; perhaps it would be better to hold aloft a side of bacon or a potato or even an onion! What does the flag of old England stand for in the minds of Canadians compared with the aforesaid breakfast table commodities!

The Buffalo Courier the other day got peevish at the repeated charge by the Canadian press that the reciprocity pact had been hatched at Ottawa and declared that it had reason to believe that overtures for the agreement first came from the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Perhaps Rev. J. A. Macdonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, will be able to throw some light upon this subject. It may be remembered that Mr. Macdonald, some months before anything was heard of the question of reciprocity, made several mysterious trips to Washington. It would give a fillip to the already interesting situation to learn that Mr. Macdonald is the father of the measure which has set the whole continent by the ears.

Even at the expense of denying Mr. Drury another trip to the Orient, the workingmen of British Columbia will be opposed to the abolition of the head-tax on Chinese.

Thousands of workingmen now out of employment in the United States would like to be in Canada today, where, without any reciprocity, times are good and the entire people prosperous. The present is surely an occasion when "let well enough alone" is pretty good advice.

Mr. Borden at Chatham: "Will you not tell Mr. Taft on September 21st that the tie which binds Canada to the empire is stronger than ever before, and, please God, it will never be broken?"

While at Chatham, Ont., the other day, Mr. R. L. Borden received the following telegram last night from Jno. J. Drummond, of Midland, Ont., one of the most prominent iron mining men in Canada and a brother of George Drummond, of Montreal. It reads: "Read your manifesto last night. It is worthy of the best traditions of our race, country and empire. I believe in this our country's crisis there will be no parting of the ways. The hour has produced the man. May God bless your noble fearless efforts and crown them and our country's cause with success from the Atlantic to the Pacific."

That the prevailing hard times in the United States are already affecting Canada is the opinion of the Montreal Star, who the other day detailed a reporter to investigate the matter. "What effect do you feel in your business through the hard times now so prevalent in the United States?" was the question put to Mr. Alan J. Hart, of the Hart Manufacturing company, Phillips' Place, and his answer was as follows: "Owing to the dumping into this country from the United States during the past year, we have only had sufficient work to run half our machines on full time. Our employees are worse off today than they were two or three years ago, and conditions are getting worse instead of better through this dumping I fear to say what the outlook is for men's wages if we get reciprocity."

The Boston Transcript dares the Canadian people to reject the reciprocity agreement, saying that the United States would justly resent such a verdict, regarding it as a slap in the face to President Taft and to both political parties in the states. If there is one thing more than another calculated to place Canadians upon their mettle it is just such talk as this. Not a few of them will be tempted to reject reciprocity for the fun of the thing, if on no other grounds—just to see what Uncle Sam will do to whip Canada into line.

The Montreal Gazette puts it this way: "Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues are keeping up their efforts to make reciprocity the one issue of the campaign. In connection with reciprocity they can talk of what their work will do. This detracts attention from what their work has done, and from such things as the National Transcontinental railway botch, the Quebec bridge failure, the Intercolonial railway waste scandal, the Sorel house painting business, the burking of the investigation into that $69,000 election fund, obtained by Mr. Oliver in the United States, and the doubling of the burden of national taxation."

AS TO PULP.

Mr. Barnard in discussing the reciprocity agreement at the Broad Street Hall referred to the provision relating to pulpwood, pulp and paper. He pointed out that the effect of this, if it becomes law, will likely be to frustrate the policy of provincial governments, which are seeking to prevent the export of pulp wood. It is recognized on all sides that Canada possesses the greatest areas of pulp timber in the world. The manufacture of pulp and paper is one of the most valuable industries that can be established in any country, and all the provinces which own pulp lands have enacted legislation prohibiting the export of pulp wood. There are areas privately owned in all the provinces, to which such prohibition as the provinces can establish does not apply. A province cannot impose an export duty on anything. If a farmer raises turnips the provincial government cannot impose an export duty upon the turnips; if he owns land on which timber is growing, a provincial government cannot impose an export duty on that timber. It cannot impose an export duty upon timber cut upon crown lands. All it can do is to make permission to cut timber upon crown lands conditioned upon its not being exported, or it can place a prohibitive royalty upon timber cut for export. Only the Dominion government can impose export duties, and therefore only the Dominion government can prevent private owners who hold timber lands unconditionally from exporting pulp wood. British Columbia, Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have prohibited the export of pulpwood, but in some, if not all, these provinces there are pulp areas owned by private individuals from which pulp wood can be exported into the United States. Under the reciprocity agreement the private owners referred to can send pulp and paper into the United States free of duty. If reciprocity comes into force the holders of crown lands under leases or licenses cannot ship pulp wood into the United States, and consequently they cannot ship pulp or paper into the United States duty free. If the Government would consent to remove the prohibition of the shipment of pulp wood, these lessees or licensees could ship pulp and paper into the United States.

Mr. Barnard pointed out that the admitted object of the United States, in consenting to the pulp provision in the agreement, was to produce a state of things that would lead to the abolition of the provincial prohibition of the export of pulp wood. It is hoped by the paper interests in the United States, which want Canadian pulp wood, that they will be able to bring sufficient pressure upon the several provincial governments to bring about the repeal of the prohibitory laws. In this effort they would have the co-operation of the holders of timber limits on Crown lands, who will not be content that their holdings shall be less valuable than the holdings of those whose lands are crown-granted. If the agreement comes into effect there will be steady and continuous pressure upon the provincial governments to permit the export of pulp wood, and it may be difficult for all the governments to resist it successfully. The end may be that the policy of conserving pulp wood to be manufactured in Canada will be frustrated by the operation of the pulp provision in the agreement.

In assenting to an agreement containing such a provision the Dominion government has departed as far as it could from the policy of conservation, and has cast upon the several provincial governments the responsibility of seeing that an important domestic industry is properly encouraged and protected. We have no difficulty in understanding how a gentleman like Mr. Ralph Smith, who favors everything looking to free trade, can support an agreement having such a provision in it; but we cannot believe that voters, who realize what the protection of the industries has done for Canada will sanction what is a direct and avowedly intended blow at what under the wise policy of the provincial government, properly seconded by the Dominion government, would certainly soon become one of the most valuable departments of manufacture in the country.

ADMISSION OF CHINESE

On May 18th last Mr. Fisher, Minister of Agriculture in the Laurier government, made a speech on the admission of Asiatics into Canada. He had spoken of the agreement with Japan and with the Indian authorities, and then went on to say: "My right hon. leader stated not long ago in this House that he would be glad, as soon as the time was ripe, to make a similar arrangement with China, if possible." Later in the course of the same speech he said: "The policy of this government is to deal with Oriental immigration by means of arrangements by which the governments of those countries will themselves restrict emigration from them to Canada, and we shall not be obliged to pass regulations to restrict it ourselves." He went on to comment adversely upon those who "would have Canada herself pass such drastic regulations as they would like for the purpose of shutting out Oriental immigration." We have been unable to find Sir Wilfrid Laurier's observations to which Mr. Fisher referred, but doubtless the Minister quoted him correctly. We have already published what Mr. Templeman said in the Victoria theatre on this point, and it is exactly in harmony with what Mr. Fisher said, and therefore presumably with what Sir Wilfrid Laurier said.

In view of these official statements as to the policy of the Dominion government how can Mr. Templeman or his friend, Mr. R. L. Drury, claim that the Colonist is wrong in saying that the abolition of the head-tax on Chinese is in contemplation by the Laurier ministry, and as it is in contemplation by what process of reasoning do these gentlemen seek to prove that this very important line of policy may not properly be considered in this campaign?

But we may be told that Mr. Fisher did not say a word about the head-tax and he certainly did not, but he did say that the Laurier ministry wishes to be rid of the necessity of placing restrictions upon Chinese or other Oriental immigration and to rely upon China herself to provide the necessary restrictions. The present restriction imposed by Canada is a $500 head-tax. This is the only restriction that Canada can remove, when she seeks to be "rid of the necessity of imposing any." It is therefore idle for Mr. Templeman to contend that his election will not be construed as an instruction to him to vote for the policy which Mr. Fisher officially stated in Parliament to be the policy of the Laurier ministry.

RECIPROCITY AND THE PREFERENCE

The reciprocity agreement does not in so many words affect the preferential tariff which Canada accords the United Kingdom; but it does in effect do so. Certain articles are included in the agreement which we import from the United Kingdom. An eastern contemporary has investigated the matter in some detail and it shows that by virtue of the proposed arrangement the United States will be put on the same footing as the United Kingdom in respect to articles of which we imported considerably over three million dollars' worth from the latter country last year, and hence the preference is to that extent completely wiped out. It shows also that the agreement reduces the preference upon articles which we imported to the value of more than two million dollars last year from the Mother Country. It will be said that these two sums, which together are less than $8,000,000, are not very great in comparison with our import trade with the Mother Country; but they are sufficient to prove the fallacy of the contention that the reciprocity agreement does not interfere with the preference.

PROTECTING THE PUBLIC

The Automobile club did a very excellent thing yesterday when some of its members went out and put up signs along the road between here and Duncan for the protection of the public. This is only the beginning of what will be a very extensive piece of work, as well as a very valuable one.

A word to motorists: Do not forget that these signs have been put up for your protection quite as much as for that of anyone else.

THE MARCH OF EVENTS.

The British Parliament has adjourned to meet again in October. This brings to an end one of the most extraordinary sessions ever held by that ancient and august body. When it reassembles it will be under unprecedented conditions, for the House of Lords will no longer enjoy the indefinite veto power. The march of events that has led up to this has been exceedingly rapid. In no part of the world has democracy reached such a degree of supremacy as it has attained in the United Kingdom, for hereafter the representative body, elected by the people at large, will have all but absolute control of the State. The House of Lords has become advisory, revisory and restraining, but it is no longer legislative in the sense that its assent is necessary to legislation. This assent will be asked in all cases and will in most cases be given, but the consideration of all bills sent up to the Lords from the Commons will be carried on with the knowledge that partizan opposition, pure and simple, is not likely to avail anything. This will go far to making the Lords a non-partizan body. Its effort will be to improve legislation, to deal with subjects on their merits, to rely upon reason rather than political or class prejudice for the justification of its action. It is not difficult to believe that under this new limitation of its powers the House of Lords may become very much more useful than ever, and that its influence upon the Commons and the electorate may easily become more powerful than ever.

The student of English history will hardly need to be reminded of the wonderful change that has taken place since the days when men summoned to the House of Commons, felt themselves so helpless that they often fled to the forest to escape the sheriffs sent to call them to Westminster to take part in the councils of the state. Nor will he require to be told of the abolition of the House of Lords in the days of the Commonwealth, and that then the prestige of the English name reached an eminence greater than it had ever occupied. We see nothing in history to lead us to fear the direction towards which the march of events in the United Kingdom is tending. On the contrary, we think we see the dawn of a brighter day in which the British people will show how to deal with and remedy the grave problems that have arisen out of the complexity of our modern civilization.

On the Liberal platform in Victoria is a man who has undertaken to answer all questions which may be put to him regarding reciprocity. His name is the Rev. W. W. Baer. He has undertaken a task from which even Sir Wilfrid Laurier or the Hon. W. S. Fielding might well shrink. His intentions we have no doubt are bona fide, and with a view to ascertaining how far he will live up to the standard he has set himself we propound a few questions for his consideration in the present issue.

We are told that reciprocity will decrease the cost of the necessaries of life and broaden the market of those who produce them. It ought not to be too much to expect our Liberal friends to take either one side of the case or the other. If our farmers are going to enter the United States market and sell in competition with producers there and make more money than by selling their produce at home, how can United States farmers come here and reduce the price of produce here? The proposition will not work out, for one thing cannot be both greater and less than another at the same time.

The Victoria sealers have just cause to complain of the treatment accorded to them by the Dominion government. On the 7th of July last a treaty was made providing for the abolition of pelagic sealing, which means the extinction of a Victoria industry; but the persons interested in that industry have not been communicated with by the Department of Marine and Fisheries. It will seem to most people to be a very extraordinary instance of neglect on the part of Mr. Templeman that he has not taken the trouble to see that so many persons, whose suffrages he is now soliciting, have not been apprized of the result of the negotiations and of what they may expect in the way of compensation. As far as anything official or semi-official goes the sealers have no reason to expect even a dollar.

Our Liberal evening contemporary must have an exceedingly poor case, or it would not so frequently misrepresent what this paper says. Last evening our contemporary said: "Today every issue of the Colonist carries the editorial declaration: 'Reduce the cost of living and wages must come down'." Inspection of the "editorial declarations" of the Colonist fails to support this statement of our contemporary. But the Colonist has said, and it repeats that as an increase in the cost of living always compels an increase in wages, of which there is abundant evidence here in Victoria, so also it is one of the fundamental principles in economics that as the cost of living is reduced, the rate of wages falls. Every one, who is familiar with the development of British Columbia, knows that time and again wages have fallen in response to the reduction of the cost of living.

New Westminster

British Columbia Conservatives are so well satisfied with the "Big Five" from this province that they would gladly have renominated them all if Mr. Cowan had seen his way clear to accept. The other four are now in the field without the suggestion in any case of a competitor in the party. New Westminster returned Liberals in 1896, 1900 and 1904. Mr. J. D. Taylor, who settled in New Westminster City in 1900 as a journalist, contested the riding four years later and pressed Mr. Kennedy hard. In 1908 he opposed Mr. Jardine and came out with the surprising majority of 826. Mr. Taylor carried to Ottawa the aggressive qualities by which he succeeded in the election campaign. It happened that in dealing with public questions, some of them of grave local interest, he found himself in collision with such important authorities as the Minister of Justice, the Solicitor-General and the Minister of Public Works. It was never necessary for others to come to Mr. Taylor's assistance. No member has been better able to take care of himself and the public interests which he represents. The consequence is that Mr. Taylor's nomination yesterday had the effect of a triumphant demonstration. It is not good to be extra-confident, and so fail to poll the possible vote, and if that mistake is not made, Mr. Taylor's majority should be among the largest in the Canadian list.—Vancouver News-Advertiser.

Mrs. Spofford Delivers Interesting Address at Meeting of Political Equality League

The statement that Premier McBride declared that if the ladies of British Columbia would only stand together in the matter they could easily obtain the franchise, was the most salient feature of the leading address given at the Political Equality League afternoon meeting on Wednesday. The members met at the residence of Mrs. Dilworth, 129 Government street, and the meeting was opened by Miss Bruce, secretary of the league, who after explaining what had been done at the previous gatherings, read a summary of the laws in B.C. affecting the status of women.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Spofford, who is well known throughout the province for the interest she has taken in all kinds of women's work. Mrs. Spofford wondered how soon it would be realized that the woman's question of the day was not only one of votes for women. Looking back at the early history of the Anglo-Saxon race they were amazed to see the wonderful progress that had been made. Formerly there had been a time when the education of women was confined to knowledge of the most rudimentary kind, and when that of men was not on a very much higher scale. Now, through the advancement of time and progress, the greatest universities in the world were open to all alike, including the women of all civilized nations. This was not due to the struggles made by women, but to the changed conditions in the world. And these same conditions were bound to produce a new type of woman, just as there was a new type of man, though they didn't hear so much about him. And it was quite impossible to fit the new woman into the old square hole of long ago. Some thought that the woman question was simply a question of woman usurping man's place, but to her mind the women who had given thought to the question were not so superficial as to see it in that light. There was no comparison between the natures of man and woman. She believed that they could only find the true solution of the problem of the race as they got back to God's purpose and intention in the matter. Woman's day was coming, and she felt that the Political Equality league could give itself to no better work than to prepare mothers and daughters to discharge the duties awaiting them in the coming years. To do this women must be prepared to forego many of their card parties and afternoon teas, and occupy themselves with getting ready for the great question ahead.

An interesting turn was given to the matter under discussion by Mrs. Hay, who drew a painful picture of a wife torn between the obedience she had vowed to her husband and the fact that she wished to vote contrary to him. She wanted to know what would be a wife's duty in a matter like that.

Mrs. Spofford solved the knotty problem by giving it as her opinion that women were not going to get the franchise until men realized that they had individualities of their own, and that they could not be expected to sink their individualities into those of their husbands.

During the afternoon Miss May Jones sang "A Woman's Love" and Miss Gladys Steinmatz gave a recitation. Mrs. Dilworth afterwards served tea. A number of new members gave in their names.

The next meeting of the league will be held on Friday, September 1, at 3 p.m., at the residence of Mrs. Baer, Vancouver street.

SIGN BOARDS FOR ISLAND HIGHWAY

Victoria Automobile Club Institutes Good Work to Supplement Road Activities of Government

The first step in the practical work of adequately marking the main highways of British Columbia preferred of motorists was taken yesterday by the members of the Victoria Automobile club, who, following the example set by their confreres across the border, have decided to supplement government activity in good roads construction by placing on each trunk thoroughfare at frequent intervals distinguishing boards and also caution signs where such latter are needed. Naturally the much-travelled Malahat Drive and its continuation on to Nanaimo, Alberni and Campbell river was chosen for first marking for the convenience alike of visitors and residents.

The signs to be used, the first thirty or forty of which were placed in position yesterday, are very similar to those adopted in the neighbor states. They carry the crest of the local club in the distinguishing maple leaf, and just beneath the words "ISLAND HIGHWAY," with the significant arrow pointing to "N" or "S"—not that the compass direction is imperatively indicated, but signifying either to Victoria or to the north end of the Island, this highway being taken as approximately a north and south road.

The start for the work of placing the first signs was made at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, President John A. Turner of the V. A. A., "turning the first sod" with all due ceremony, and sign No. 1 being erected at the corner of Government and Belleville streets, the the principal corner of Parliament Square. Thence the company enlisted for the work, including Secretary John A. Hinton, and Messrs. Reynolds, Gonnason, Todd and Gibbons, of the club, with a working force of government road men drafted for the purpose, proceeded through to Koksilah, marking each important point of possible deviation from the course, and also all points where special caution in driving with getting ready for the great question ahead.

The route followed is by the familiar Gorge Road to Craigflower, Colwood and the Malahat Drive, from Mill Bay direct to Cobble Hill, and from Cobble Hill by way of Cowichan Bay, an incomparable scenic route and also to be favored as offering the best general road conditions, with a minimum mileage. It is an interesting fact that from the city through to within seven miles of Duncan, but four right-angle turns present themselves, a circumstance which American visitors are certain to mark with wonder.

INQUIRY DELAYED

Some Time before Mayor's Scheme Will be Carried Into Effect.

Just when the investigation into the high price of foodstuffs, an investigation recently suggested by Mayor Morley to the city council and approved by that body, will commence has not yet been decided upon by the gentlemen, Messrs. John Dean and H. F. Pullen, appointed to conduct the inquiry and report back to the council. At present Mr. Dean is busy with the city assessor on the work of preparing a valuation of the lands and buildings along the shores of Sooke Lake which will be taken by the city under the large water supply development scheme. Other work being done by Mr. Dean for the city also engages his attention.

The point, too, has been raised whether the two appointees have the authority to take testimony on oath or whether the inquiry will have to be a species of shop-to-shop canvas in the search for present values. Members of the council feel that unless the commission can call witnesses to testify on oath the value of the proceedings will be greatly lessened and the work of arriving at the exact facts will be fruitless. The right of the commission to force attendance of witnesses is disputed by some of the local dealers.

Just when the commissioners will get together and arrange their plan of campaign is uncertain but it will not be for some considerable time.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Breakwater

Sir:—The question of the formation of a breakwater off the mouth of the harbor, from Holland point to Brotchie ledge, has been before the public, in a spasmodic kind of way, for more than twenty-five years. What is the object sought to be obtained and who is seeking it? The storms experienced off the mouth of the harbor occur possibly twice or three times in a year during the winter; they spring up from the southeast and blow heavily, vere to the south and die out in the southwest usually within twenty-four hours. The heavy seas pass away clear of the outer wharf and break over the rocks around McLaughlin point and Work island. The large steamers, like the Blue Funnel line, tied up on the northwest side of the old outer wharf, lie quietly in the roughest sea (outside); but, being high out of the water, they feel the full force of the gale. Still, by putting out every bit of string on board, they keep themselves at home. A large vessel lying on the southeast side of the wharf might damage itself by pounding against the wharf, but staunch vessels, like tugs, are not damaged in the least. We may accept it as a fact that vessels lying at the outer wharf are perfectly safe from the heaviest gale. There is no record of anything to the contrary. As a breakwater at Brotchie ledge would be no protection from the gales, it would be of little advantage to the shipping lying at the outer wharf or entering the harbor. Its object must be sought elsewhere.

As the wind veers to the south the sea breaks over Coffin, Colville and Polly islands and the contiguous shore; and if there were wharves running east and west, vessels would lie there uneasily, but vessels lying at indented docks would be safe.

Supposing, for argument's sake, that a breakwater is, in any way, needed for the safety of shipping lying at the outer wharves or entering the harbor, the proper place for the breakwater would be from Brotchie ledge outward and westward. This would secure quiet water over the whole mouth of the harbor. I do not, however, remember to have heard of any vessel in peril entering the harbor, therefore, fail to see the need of a breakwater, as such and for that purpose as a work of public utility.

The promoters of the breakwater scheme are seeking to exploit the frontage along the Dallas road (where the sea wall is now under construction), with a view to the formation of an outer harbor with wharves and warehouses at right angles to the road; a very excellent project.

Such a breakwater, or sea wall, with a mole continued northwesterly (more or less parallel with the road) would form a most valuable water reservation that might be developed most advantageously to meet the possible expansion of trade. Whether this should be a government, or a commercial, or a municipal proposition, is open to consideration. It might possibly be a private enterprise, with sufficient claim upon the government for assistnace, in some proportion to the paid up stock.

But, with your permission, I will refer to this matter more in detail later.

THOS. C. SORBY.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Conjugal Differences.—After hearing the evidence from both sides regarding a domestic quarrel between John Carmoody and his wife, who are separated, Magistrate Jay remarked that even in the best of regulated families, there were remarks passed between husband and wife, complimentary and otherwise, and although the remark in this case was "otherwise," he concluded that there was not sufficient evidence for a conviction, and dismissed the charge, but not before warning both husband and wife to in future keep even farther apart than they had hitherto done.

Coming to Victoria.—Rev. Father Donald MacDonald, of Chelsea, Mass., will arrive shortly in this city to take up his duties as assistant priest to Rev. Father Lesterne, of St. Andrew's Cathedral. Father MacDonald was ordained about six weeks ago at the Holy Heart Seminary, Halifax, N.S., by his Grace Archbishop McCarthy. Before leaving Chelsea the young priest received several valuable gifts from friends in the district of Mill Hill, where he lived while preparing for the priesthood. These included a beautiful gold chalice and a substantial purse of gold.

Juvenile Good Templars.—On Tuesday next, 29th inst., a public temperance meeting and entertainment will be held in Semple's Hall, Victoria West, commencing at 7.30 p. m. Short addresses will be given by Dr. Lewis Hall, P.G.C.T.; Rev. J. P. Hicks, P.G.C.T.; and Rev. T. W. Gladstone, P.G.Co. A programme of songs, recitations, etc., will be rendered by juvenile templars from Conqueror and Queen Mary temples. A squad of girls from the two temples will also give an exhibition of fancy marching with wands. W. H. Booth, grand superintendent of juvenile work for B. C., will preside.

Due to Natural Causes.—An inquest held yesterday afternoon to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the sudden death of Mr. James Smith Bailey, for many years port missionary here of the British and Foreign Sailors' Society, who expired after but a few hours illness at his residence, 912 Caledonia avenue, on the evening of Tuesday last, showed that death was due to natural causes, deceased having succumbed to heart trouble. Dr. Donald gave medical testimony. The jury was composed of A. B. Fraser, foreman; Edgar Parr, A. R. McGregor, George Cook, Robert McKinney and Roy Lougheed.

Crop Correspondence.—Mr. Albert E. Craddock, secretary to the department of agriculture for the province, returned this week from the Old Country after a short visit, during which he discussed matters of interest to the department with officials of the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries in the Imperial Government, and with the Department of Agriculture in Ireland. Commenting on Mr. Craddock's visit, a well known London financial paper says: "The British Columbia government is instituting a revised system of statistics that will be more in keeping with the growing agricultural interests of the province and it is intended to embody as many of the features of the British system as are consistent with the particular requirements of the agriculture of the Pacific coast. The department has already organized a system of crop correspondence whereby farmers act as voluntary agents in giving full information regarding the areas under cultivation and the produce of the various crops, etc. This will be issued periodically in the form of an official bulletin and widely disseminated. Mr. Craddock is more than satisfied with the keen interest shown here in British Columbian affairs."

Assaulted a Constable.—When Jack Dempster was charged in the police court yesterday morning with assaulting Constable Allison at the corner of Yates and Douglas streets on Wednesday night, and asked to plead, he refused to utter a word. Because of this the plea of guilty was taken, and after the evidence had been heard, Magistrate Jay sentenced the accused to two months imprisonment at hard labor. Constable Allison said that when he first saw the accused on the street, he was walking in a perfectly straight manner, but just as soon as he had noticed the officer, he began to pose as an inebriate. The officer told him to behave himself and cautioned him to move on. A short time later when the officer had "moved" two men who were hanging round the corner, the accused came up to him, and while moving very close to the officer used insulting and profane language to him. On a rebuke from the bluecoat, Dempster struck the constable on the head with his fist knocking his helmet off. This was too much for the officer, and after a scuffle with Dempster, he managed to land the accused on his back on the sidewalk, where he quickly snapped the handcuffs over his wrists, and escorted him to the station. Another officer who witnessed the affair corroborated the statements of Constable Allison.

Work of Children's Aid.—The Children's Aid Directorate met at the City Hall on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. W. L. Clay occupying the chair. The secretary reported having investigated 23 cases during the month, with the result that one child had been placed under control of the society by the court, and another child had been given to the society by its father; one baby had been adopted into a good home, while another little one needed adopting; four boys had been before the juvenile court, two uncontrolable children had been placed in the home, and two runaway boys from another town had been cared for until friends were communicated with. The report of the superintendent was read. It touched on the work and care of the individual boys and girls, and showed the development of the children under changed and helpful environment. The resignations of Mrs. Marvin, the Right Rev. Bishop Perrin, and Mr. J. E. Andrews, the treasurer, were received and accepted with deep regret, the secretary being instructed to write to each asking that they continue to act as long as possible as members of the committee. Mrs. Marvin, chairman of the purchasing committee, reported having supplied clothing and dishes to the home during the month. The treasurer gave a detailed account of the monthly income and expenditure, showing a balance on hand. Donations were sent to the home from Mrs. Dodd, Miss West, and clothing from two friends. At present twelve children are being sheltered in the home.

NEWS OF THE CITY

St. Louis College.—The autumn term of St. Louis' College, the school for Catholic boys, at the corner of Pandora avenue and Vancouver street, will commence next Monday.

Government Street Lighting—Arrangements are now under way whereby an early start will be made on the installation of the cluster lighting system on Government street between Humboldt street and Cormorant street and later the system north of Cormorant street to Hillside avenue will be installed.

Building Permits.—Building permits were issued yesterday by the building inspector to J. L. Wilson, dwelling on Burwick street, $1700; to H. M. Cowper, dwelling on Chapman street, $1800; to Capt. John Thomson, dwelling on Heywood avenue, $4,200; to W. E. Staneland, dwelling on Richmond road, $6,500; to John Forbister, addition to dwelling on Edgeware road, $300.

Prisoners Transferred—Owing to congestion at the New Westminster penitentiary it has been found necessary to move twenty-one prisoners from that institution to the provincial jail here. These were brought over on the Princess Adelaide last evening. None of the prisoners are in for terms exceeding two years and many have served nearly their whole sentences.

Must Secure Permits—Within the past week or two many parents have been applying at the school board offices, city hall, for the necessary permits allowing their children to become enrolled on the register. All new pupils must first be supplied with permits and parents who desire their children to attend the public schools, but who have so far failed to secure the requisite permit, are requested to do so by the end of this month.

Oddfellows Reunion—The arrangements for the annual reunion of the Vancouver island Oddfellows on Labor day at Duncan are now being completed and the event promises to be a history maker among Oddfellows in point of attendance and enjoyment. Tickets for the regular and special trains, which will leave this city during the day can be procured from the following stores: Edwards' stationery store, Jackson's drug store, White's shoe store, Huxtable's stationery store, Gardener's drug store, corner Cook and Pandora avenue; Bleasdale Piano house and members of the committee.

Alberni Railroad—The Alberni extension of the E. & N. railway will be completed and the system in operation by November 1st. This statement was made yesterday by Mr. H. E. Beasley, superintendent of the road. He said that the rails already had reached the west coast terminus, that the ballasting was well underway and would be finished in October. At present it was planned to have the system active from Victoria to Alberni by the beginning of the second to the last month of the year. Work on the Cowichan lake extension is proceeding rapidly, a large force of men being engaged. All along the road business is splendid.

Resolution of Sympathy.—At the weekly meeting of Triumph Lodge No. 16, I. O. G. T., the following resolution moved by Bro. Rev. J. P. Hicks, and seconded by Bro. Rev. J. McFadyen, was unanimously adopted by standing vote: "Resolved—That this lodge, having heard of the sudden and lamentable decease of our beloved brother J. S. Bailey, the chaplain of our sister lodge Victoria No. 84, desires to place on record our high esteem for our late brother, and for the services he has rendered Good Templary throughout his long and useful life. We would also convey to his bereaved family our condolences and assurances of sympathy with them in their hour of sorrow."

Devotional Meeting—On Monday evening last, the first monthly devotional meeting of the Luther league was held in St. Paul's Lutheran church with a good attendance not only of the young people, but also many of their elders. The meeting was opened by the pastor with hymns, scripture reading and prayer; after a few introductory remarks relative to the aim and object of these meetings, the pastor introduced the speaker, German Consul Loewenberg. The consul's encouraging and stimulating remarks were much appreciated. Miss Papke rendered a vocal solo and a reading. Mr. Schmeltz gave a selection on the violin. The pastor made a stirring appeal to the youth of the church for consecrated effort on their part. With a rising vote of thanks to Consul Loewenberg and the singing of the doxology the meeting closed.

Ideal College City.—Among recent visitors to Victoria was Mr. David R. McConnel, of Palo Alto, Cal., an educationist of high standing. Mr. McConnel was born in Edinburgh, and was graduated from the university there. He went to Brisbane and there many years ago he founded the Brisbane Technical College of which he was a director for twenty years.

Of late years he has been studying American educational methods at Stanford University and will leave in a short time for Columbia university in the east. "It is gratifying to know that this province is to have a university," said Mr. McConnel. "It is assuredly necessary for the future of young people in this western country, and now is the time to establish it and place it on a good footing so that it may develop with the years. Victoria here appeals to me as an ideal college city. Some day there should be a large university here."

Opening of Songhee Grill.—About five hundred Victorians dined at the Songhee Grill last night when the opening of the palatial restaurant took place. For the occasion the management served an excellent dinner a la carte, and many who had failed to reserve seats were unable to be accommodated, so great was the patronage given to this latest and most modern of the restaurants of Victoria when it opened its doors. A fine orchestra led by Mr. Le Grand Carter, played a good programme during the evening, and Messrs. Ives, Houston and others contributed solos. The opening was a most successful event, and many were the congratulations tendered to Mr. W. E. Murray, the noted caterer, who is the manager of the Songhee Grill, to which he comes with the experience of over two decades gained in some of the finest restaurants of the continent, coming recently from Rector's in Chicago, and prior to that being connected with Delmonico's, Hoffman House and the celebrated Maison Dorion in New York. He and his staff were indefatigable in their efforts to make the opening an event in the restaurant life of Victoria, and that they succeeded was borne witness to by the large number of Victorians fortunate enough to attend the opening. The Songhee Grill, which covers the entire lower floor of the Westholme hotel, was thoroughly described in the Colonist of yesterday, and those who had read that description were prepared in a measure for the charming furnishing and decoration which adds so much to the enjoyment of such a restaurant as this which was formally opened last night.

Change Hour of Service—The officials of the Centennial Methodist church have decided to change the hour of Sunday evening service from 7 to 7.30 o'clock. The decision is to take effect on Sunday evening next.

Enforcing Bush Fires Act—Those responsible for starting some of the recent bush fires on the southern end of Vancouver island are meeting their deserts. In the police court at Nanaimo on Tuesday last Frank Ambrose, of South Wellington, and George Walker, of Waterloo, were each fined $50 for infractions of the act. Division Fire Warden Fred Markland leaves this morning for Nanaimo to watch proceedings in two more cases to come up there this afternoon. Cases will also be heard in Duncan and in the local police court today for infringements of the bush fires act.

Enjoyable Garden Party—The garden party held by the Ladies' guild of St. James' church in the spacious grounds of Mrs. M. R. Smith, Dallas road, on Wednesday, was very largely attended both by parishioners and friends. The day was an ideal one. The garden was prettily decorated, and after dark was illuminated by strings of electric lights and Chinese lanterns. The financial results were very satisfactory and gratifying to those who had spared no pains in making the garden party the success it was. The tea was ably looked after by Mrs. Sissons, Mrs. Ostlum, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Flint and Mrs. Perkins, assisted by a band of willing workers charmingly attired for the occasion. Mrs. C. R. Brown and Mrs. G. H. Brown had charge of the ice cream and were kept busy with their helpers until the last dish had been disposed of. Mrs. Langton and Miss Legg had charge of the candy stall and did a thriving trade. Mrs. Watt and Miss Sorby looked after the putting contest, which was well patronized. During the evening a concert was given in Miss Smith's studio of music, kindly lent for the purpose. The concert was got up by Mrs. Stracey and Mr. Thompson, the organist of St. James' church. It was much enjoyed. The playing of Mrs. Garrett Smith and the singing of Miss Haggerty eliciting a round of applause. In addition to them the others taking part were Mr. Petch, Mrs. Hamlet, Mr. Roy Pomfret, Miss L. Clark, Miss Harris, Miss Redfern and Mrs. Stracey. During the afternoon Mr. Plowright's mandolin orchestra contributed in no small degree to the enjoyment of those present.

TOO SHORT NOTICE

School Board Accordingly Refuses to Accept Resignation of Teacher.

Hereafter when a teacher of the local public school staff resigns his or her position such resignation shall be forwarded to the board at such time as to constitute sufficient notice under the provisions of the School Act which reads that a teacher desiring to resign must give notice one month before the end of the term.

As a rule where a teahcer gives a month's notice even if it is in the middle of a term the board accepts the resignation as there is no desire to work a hardship upon any teacher, but one case came before the board at its meeting yesterday which led it to stand upon the reading of the act.

The resignation of Mr. W. H. Miller, assistant at the North Ward school, was read asking that he be relieved of his duties on September 17. The resignation was written but a few days ago and the members of the board felt that had Mr. Miller had any idea of resigning he should have so stated before the closing of the last term. One member declared Mr. Miller had held over his resignation because he desired to receive the salary for the holidays. Had he done as the act provided his services would have terminated at the end of June. While there was no desire to work a hardship upon Mr. Miller the board will insist that he remains upon the teaching staff for a time at least.

Mr. John R. McLean of Oak Bay was appointed additional manual training teacher at a salary of $100 per month, his duties to commence at the Central school on September 1. John Plimer was appointed janitor of the new Bank street school at a salary of $50 per month.

PROVINCE'S DISPLAY AT DOMINION EXHIBITION

Specimens of Resources of B. C. Attract Considerable Attention at Regina and Edmonton.

The exhibit of the provincial department of agriculture at the Dominion exhibition at Regina, July 21-Aug. 12, was one of the strong features of the big fair according to returned citizens who were present. "There is no doubt," said one man who attended the Regina fair, "that the good work of the department at Regina will do a great deal of good for this province. Describing the British Columbia exhibit one of the Regina newspapers, after stating that it attracted a constant stream of specators, said: "It is absolutely different from either of the others. On one hand there is timber so great that even the old lumberman from Ontario is amazed and the plainsman opens his eys in astonishment. On the other hand is the finest display of fruits ever shown in Regina. Pictures placed here and there on the walls show the giant trees of the forests of the province and above the fruits are the pictures of other fruits.

"But to return to the timber. At the door is a hemlock block cut from a timber averaging 36 inches in diameter. A squared block of hemlock measures 22 1-2 inches. The big spruce beside them makes these two large blocks look almost pigmies; it measures only 60 inches across. A square stick of fir measuring only 42 inches follows and then comes the monster fir that measures only 69 inches across. As the crowd enters, the men hurry to see the timber while the ladies are all taken with the fruit. There are cherries, berries, currants, apples, peaches, plums, tomatoes, in fact everything the people of Saskatchewan long for. The Lambert is the largest cherry grown and the flavor is indescribable. There are the old wild cherries of Ontario improved in British Columbia. They are very small and look smaller beside the other beauties and to see them shown and labelled Ontario raises the ire of many people from that good old province. The showing of cherries is very complete. First peaches of the season are here and the color, size and flavor would be hard to improve. The plums and berries are well up to British Columbia standards. The apples although picked early for this display are large and very well advanced. Bunches of grapes are hung here and there along the edges of the shelves. A monster tomato weighs fifteen and three-quarter ounces. Across the top, in large sealed jars and preserved in acid, are samples of almost ideal fruits, the products of the last nine years; fruits of every variety and always the best are preserved. The whole display is one of great beauty and the arrangement and coloring of the fruits are the only ornaments. A constant supply of fresh fruit keeps up the appearance of the first days. Altogether the display is a most pleasing one for Saskatchewan people who see less than they wish to of fruit."

The department has now completed arrangements for the exhibit at the Canadian National exhibition at Toronto, which opens next Saturday and continues until September 12th. The same class of exhibit as was shown at Regina will be displayed at Toronto but on a much larger scale. Practically the same exhibit as is used at Toronto will be shown in London later.

The provincial exhibit at Edmonton last week attracted a great deal of favorable comment and drew a continuous line of visitors to the dairy building where it was shown.

OBITUARY NOTICES

Borde—The funeral of the late Mrs. Antoinette Borde took place from the residence of her son, Mr. A. Borde, 2818 Rock Bay avenue, yesterday morning at 8.30 o'clock and at 9 o'clock from the Roman Catholic cathedral, where solemn requiem mass was held by the Rev. Father Fisser. Rev. Father Leterme conducted services at the graveside. A large number of friends were present, including many of the city hall staff, where Mr. Borde is engaged. There was a large number of floral tributes presented. The pallbearers were Messrs. S. Manuel, R. Hall, H. Cathcart, R. Jennings, F. Sere and P. W. Dempster. Interment was made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

Bailey—The remains of the late Mr. J. S. Bailey were removed from the Hanna chapel to the St. Barnabas church last night, where they will repose until the funeral is held this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Services will be conducted by the Rev. E. G. Miller. Interment will be made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

False Alarm Calls Brigade.—For some unexplained reason the May-Oatway fire alarm system installed at the parliament buildings broke loose from its moorings at 11 o'clock last evening, and as a result the fire department was given a run. Why the system should have sent in the alarm is a mystery, the moment Government street was clear and the brigade gave a similar run to the scene of the false alarm.

HERE AND THERE

Gardening for Boys.

In Dayton, Ohio, the naughty boys have been set to work at gardening and, it is stated that a great improvement is the result. The lads, who would otherwise have been sent to the reform school are given a strip of land 10 feet wide by 107 feet long, which each is to cultivate for his own profit. The gardening hours need not interfere with school or other pursuits suitable to boys. They are an hour in the morning from half past six to half past seven and, in the evening the interval between four o'clock and quarter past five. Each boy can sell the vegetables or flowers that he raises or bring them home. A similar experiment could very easily be tried here in two places, at least. In the Protestant Orphanage there are many children, boys and girls, who could be taught to garden and who would benefit by the outdoor exercise. It is true, the splendid site of the home is very rocky, but if there is not enough fertile land on the grounds, more could be leased in the vicinity. In the institution itself, there would always be a market for the products of the labor of the children. It is easy to believe that the improvement in the physique and the behavior of the young people would justify the employment of a properly qualified instructor. In this case the employment must be voluntary, but it is easy to see that with a little tact the possession of a garden might be made a reward to be eagerly sought after by all but the very idle children. In the case of the detention home no such option need be given. There is around the present building ample room for the experiment. The only objection, and it is a serious one, is the uncertainty of the stay of the wards of the Children's Aid Society.

There is no question of the desirability of teaching gardening to boys on this island. A lad who knows how to raise small fruits and vegetables or even to care for them, need never want for employment in this country. This will take away a great temptation to dishonesty. The love of growing things keeps out of a child's mind evil and debasing thoughts. This matter is well worth the consideration of those who have charge of the children.

Home and School Gardens.

If the love of natural beauty and contact with Mother Earth will help our dependent and delinquent children, why should it not be good for those who are protected and cared for by their own parents? The boys and girls in many homes would be both better and happier if they helped to cultivate the gardens that could be made around almost every house in Victoria. In the country the time of children out of school is occupied in many ways and often the small boy is one of the most useful hands on the farm. For want of such occupation many city children get into mischief. To create among boys and girls a spirit of healthy rivalry in making the surroundings of their homes beautiful would help to foster a civic spirit too sadly lacking now among many of our young folk.

In Victoria, Vancouver and Nanaimo the schoolhouses and school grounds are, with very few exceptions, as bare and unattractive as they can well be. In some instances this cannot be helped. The grounds are so confined that even roses or clematis on the school walls or a border of flowers beside the fence would interfere with the healthful play of the pupils. But there are many cases where there is plenty of room for the cultivation of flowers and where shade trees would add greatly to the enjoyment and comfort of the children. That in so few instances advantage has been taken of the space provided is greatly to be regretted.

In the school gardens instruction could be given in the theory as well as the practice of horticulture. While these would be elementary they would be none the less useful. Nature study, under these circumstances, would have a living interest of which it is now too often devoid. There are, doubtless, difficulties in the way of the cultivation of gardens. But these have been overcome in other parts of Canada, and in some parts of our own province.

Sardines.

There are many people who have an idea that sardines are unwholesome even if the fish sold under that name come, as is pretended, from the island of Sardinia. The London Lancet is authority for the statement that fish, preserved in oil, no matter of what species, are valuable food. The oil, this authority states, is an excellent balance to nitrogenous foods in which fish is rich. "It prevents," says the Lancet, "the overloading of the tissues with nitrogenous waste products, and a digestible fat favors nutrition considerably. The sardine supplies also an excellent proportion (25 per cent.) of nitrogenous material, and so it becomes a real and economical food. In addition to this the sardine has appetizing qualities, and where appetite serves, digestion follows. Luckily, its preservation in the cooked state in oil precludes contamination, even although it is brought to our shores in tin. We have examined a great number of samples of tinned sardines, but not once have we been able to find the slightest evidence of metallic contamination or of objectionable preservatives. The tins consist of no worse metals than iron and tin, both of which may be regarded as practically outside the pale of poisonous metals. Oil is besides an effective guard against these metals being attacked. Physiologically it counts for very little if the sardine proves to be not a 'scientific' sardine and the oil is not the oil of the olive. We have a suspicion that a preference would be exhibited for the genuine sardines and l'huile d'olive, but the fishes substituted for the real Sardinia pilchards are, generally speaking, still of the herring family, and the cheaper oil used is wholesome, consisting often of peanut oil or sesame or cottonseed oil, which contain to a large extent the same fatty principles as olive oil. This view must not be regarded for a moment as favoring the practise of substitution in general, while obviously in this case the consumer is not injured nor is he seriously cheated. Neither what we know to be a herring or sprat is a true sardine, and cottonseed oil is certainly not l'huile d'olive. Strict ethical teaching, however, would require some declaration as to the exact nature of the goods. But if that demand were enforced there would soon arise an unnecessary prejudice against the substitutes, which after all are very closely related to the genuine articles, and which are equally palatable and nutritious. If the real sardine were as abundant as its cogeners the position might be different. As it is we may be grateful for a plentiful and cheap supply of this appetizing morsel, whether sardine, sprat, or herring."

This is very interesting in a province whose shores are washed by waters in which there is an abundance of small fish.

Mrs. Lloyd George.

The last number of "Canada" has an interesting character sketch of the wife of the chancellor of the exchequer from the pen of a Canadian whose signature is Christian Richardson. It is easy to gather from it that the nervous, hard-working statesman owes much of his success to the placid lady who loves her home and her garden only next to her husband and children. Mrs. George loves her church and she is a staunch Methodist. She is a strong temperance woman too, and believes in woman suffrage after a quiet, common sense fashion. Mrs. George loves her friends, and has a singular faculty of keeping those of her girlhood. Whether their station be high or low such women are a great source of strength to the empire. It is upon these that husbands lean in time of stress and adversity. It is in their homes that children grow up pure and happy and wise. They have no need to talk about woman's work and woman's place for they have found both. All true women may be thankful that in the old land and in the new dominions such women are to be found by those who are worthy to appreciate their virtue and their charm.

Another Type.

The Engineering and Mining Journal, of New York, tells us that a woman is now acting director of the United States mint. On August 1, Miss Margaret V. Kelly, who had been adjuster of accounts in the mint bureau, became the highest salaried woman in the government's service on being appointed by Secretary McVeagh as "examiner of mints," virtually assistant director of the mint. In this new position Miss Kelly will be drawing $3,000 per year, and will be acting director of the mint for several months, in the absence of Director George E. Roberts, who left Washington on an extended trip soon after the appointment of Miss Kelly. Miss Kelly is a native of New Hampshire and entered the mint bureau 14 years ago; she has held successively the position of stenographer, private secretary to the director, adjuster of accounts, and examiner.

Yet great as are the services of such women as Miss Kelly, money will buy them. The love, the devotion, the friendship, the service of the wife and mother are priceless and their influence is incalculable.

Paris Detectives Utterly Fail to Solve Mystery Attending Theft of Da Vinci Picture

PARIS, Aug. 24.—The mystery of the disappearance from the Louvre of Leonardo Da Vinci's great painting "Mona Lisa," called by the French "La Boconde," appears more impenetrable than ever tonight. The only thing definitely established by today's investigation is that the picture disappeared between the hours of 7 and 8.30 on Monday morning. Whether it is still in the Louvre or has been taken away it is impossible to determine.

Under the direction of M. Lepine, prefect of police, the search is being continued by the pick of the Paris detective force. A council of war was held in the Louvre today.

Various theories were advanced, weighed, and finally rejected for lack of evidence. It is believed, however, that the picture has not left the building, but is hidden in one of the innumerable recesses. It is supposed that the thief or thieves entered the museum before it was closed and remained hidden all night.

PIPPINS AGAIN TROUNCE LOCALS

Nick Williams' Family Take Their Fourth Consecutive Victory by Large Margin—Goodman Sprains Ankle

Portland 11, Victoria 4.

One of the worst drubbings the Islanders have received on the home grounds was that administered yesterday. The first few periods looked promising, three runs being taken by both nines by dint of fairly good work, although Victoria was helped along by a couple of errors. But the Pippins got to Heaver Thorsen before long and when that happened the hopes of the "ever hopeful" local fans were dashed again. The defeat, however, wasn't the most serious feature of the event, for constant repetition has made a reverse commonplace. It was the injury sustained by Playing Manager Bill Goodman when sliding into second base in the fifth inning. He sprained his ankle badly, had to be helped from the field, and from late reports it is doubtful whether he will be seen in action here again this season. So it may be "Goodbye Bill," for next year he goes to try out with the Boston Americans and it is a cinch that he will make good.

So monotonous was the procession that the ladies, usually the most optimistic and interested fans, turned their attention to the discussion of social affairs. If they had no notes to exchange they amused themselves by airing their opinions as to whether golden locks, as disported by Nick Williams or the raven ringlets of Hex DeVogt, were the most becoming. They had come to no definite conclusion, being still in animated controversy, when attention was suddenly diverted by a notable performance on the part of the aforementioned Rex, who, incidentally, had been shoved into the game in the hot corner usually held down by the conscientious Bill.

That Home Run

It was in the seventh. Bloomfield had succeeded Maxmeyer on the mound and had been holding the Islanders down when the unexpected happened. Rex clouted the horsehide over the fence. While Ward tried to keep things going, taking a two bagger, that was as far as the locals got. They found it impossible to "come back."

To enter into the details of the fifth, sixth and eighth stanzas would serve no good purpose. It would only harrow the sensitive souls of the home enthusiasts. Not only was it the bunching of hits that was responsible, although the slugging that the Pippins administered to Thorsen was anything but gentle. In these three innings they garnered nine safe ones, one of which was a two sacker. When this figure is borne in mind and when there is sprinkled over the dish a seasoning of bases on balls, of nicely laid down sacrifices of stolen bases, and of all round loose work on the part of the Islanders it won't be hard for the reader to understand how the grand total indicated comes to appear in the official score.

However, when all is said and done, the locals cannot be severely criticised. Just to illustrate in yesterday's line-up there were working on the infield just two regulars, namely Brennan and Goodman, while in the outfield there was only one who really belongs—Clementson. After the sixth the team was further crippled by Goodman's hurt so that although First Baseman McMurdo is likely to be ready to take his post again in a couple of days the situation won't be greatly improved.

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Uhlan, the trotting marvel, went an exhibition mile at the grand circuit races today in 2:02¾. He was driven by his owner, C. K. C. Billings, and was paced by a runner. The exhibition was given to beat 2:08. Results:

2:17 trot, purse $2,000—Robert Mirol won third, fourth and fifth heats and race. Best time, 2:14¾. Chatty Direct won first heat. Time, 2:13½. Baden won second heat. Time, 2:13¾.

2:15 pace, purse $2,000—Hal B. Jr. won second, third and fourth heats and race. Best time, 2:07¼. My Shady Belle won first heat. Time, 2:09½. Ivan B., third.

Three-year-old trot, purse $2,000—Mammie Guy won in straight heats. Best time, 2:16½. Lady Lorgan second, Kalavia third.

Uhlan's time of 2:02 3-4 is claimed as a new world's record for a half mile track, the best known previous performance being 2:05 1-4, made by Uhlan at Allentown, Penn., last September.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED; JUNIORS WILL TRAVEL

Having had their challenge accepted by by the champion East End lacrosse team of Vancouver, a local combined team of junior lacrosse players will journey to the Terminal City on Labor Day in quest of the British Columbia championship, for which the Vancouver Fair Association is donating twelve gold medals for the successful members of the winning team.

Such was the word received by Mr. W. A. Blake from Mr. N. Degraves, acting for the Fair Association. The former has been making every effort to pull off this game, and has finally succeeded, and is now handling the boys who are training for places on the team. Practices will be held regularly, and Mr. Blake will see that the best available will be sent from here to represent the Capital City.

Financial support is being offered by local citizens, who will be, as a matter of fact, sending the team. The interest being shown in boosting the national game among the young fellows has been surprisingly great among the business men of the city.

Those from whom the team will be selected are Messrs. Clarke, Baker, Menzies, Toughy, Henderson, Steele, McDonald, Pottinger, Humber, McKenzie, Mason, Wolsey, Richie,, O'Brien, Shorty, Brown, Dickson, McLoughlin and others.

The boys are all under eighteen years of age. The game will be played under the rules of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association.

ATHLETES COMPETE IN ASTORIA MEET

The fastest track men of the Pacific coast and middle west will compete today in the championships which take place at Astoria, Oregon, and among them will be Hal Beasley, of this city, who left on Wednesday to wear the J.B.A.A. and Victoria colors at the important meet. The local sprinter will run in the 100 and 220 events and as he has made what is close to the record mark during his training practices in this city last week, the interest in his running at the meet has grown greatly.

The Seattle, Tacoma, and Olympia representatives, as well as the Portland and California athletes, are all expecting to carry away the greatest aggregate of championships.

Langford Again.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Sam Langford, the Boston heavyweight, knocked out Tony Ross, of Pittsburg, in the sixth round of their scheduled ten-round bout at the National sporting club here tonight.

Cricket Tournament.

By defeating Strawberry Vale yesterday the Victoria C. C. comes through the preliminary contest with a "possible." They have defeated all their adversaries and now rest until tomorrow, when they meet the winner of today's match, Seattle vs. Saanich, which will take place at Work Point barracks, commencing at 10.30 a. m. Tomorrow's game will begin at 10 o'clock and will continue so long as there is light enough to play. If there is any necessity for so doing Victoria will place the same team in the field as defeated the Vancouver C. C. on Wednesday.

Mr. W. Blakemore has very kindly donated a new telegraph board to the Victorias and it is expected it will be in use for Saturday's game. The new board will have figures twice as large as the present ones in use, and the gift is very highly appreciated by the club.

The visiting clubs have all expressed their appreciation of the magnificent wickets prepared for all the matches by Coppinger, Vancouver C. C. players particularly, who stated that it was "perfect."

It has been particularly noticeable that bad fielding has lost more games this week than anything else.

Victoria C. C. vs. Strawberry Vale.

In a dull, uninteresting match at the Jubilee hospital grounds yesterday Victoria ran away with their final match in series B competition winning by 259 runs. How many more they could have won by is simply a matter of conjecture, because practically all the scoring was composed of either 4's or singles. Strawberry Vale won the toss and foolishly decided to field first. The first Victoria wicket fell at 109. F. Galliher and G. L. Wright were not in long; but when Sholto Gillespie arrived he and Martin carried the score to 312 before the latter was bowled for 152. Capt. L. York "declared" at 2.30 and by 4 o'clock the game was over as Strawberry Vale did not care to bat again.

Seattle vs. Navy Esquimalt.

Seattle avenged their defeat at the hands of Navy-Esquimalt on Monday last by handsomely defeating them yesterday at Work Point Barracks by 120 runs.

The feature of the game was undoubtedly Capt. McKillop's brilliant innings of 108. He was ably assisted by L. Pattullo 34, C. W. Lawrence 29, who on account of physical disability could not run half the runs he earned, Ridge 15 and Reddie 16. In thus getting his century McKillop showed splendid form and hit well on all sides. He gave no chance and demonstrated beyond question that he is a great cricketer.

The bowling of Cameron and Lawrence against Navy-Esquimalt was never slack and Waddell's wicket keeping (no extras) a brilliant feature. Seattle richly deserved and well earned their victory and even their opponents warmly complimented them on their splendid play.

On form, Seattle should give Saanich a lot of trouble today, and judging by Wednesday's game will probably play Victoria at the Jubilee Hospital grounds on Saturday for the Pacific Northwest championships for 1911.

PRESS COMMENTS

Mr. A. S. Goodeve

In Kootenay no other Conservative has been nominated as a possible candidate except Mr. Goodeve, whose formal nomination has now taken place. Three years ago Mr. Goodeve turned a Liberal majority of 767 into a Conservative margin of 936, though the election was deferred and the voters went to the polls knowing that they were electing a member to sit in opposition. In the House Mr. Goodeve has more than justified the good opinion formed of him in the Kootenay country. There are few better speakers or more popular members, and apart from politics both parties will be glad to see him again at Ottawa. Mr. Goodeve will represent a district which ought to have two members, and would have been divided if the redistribution had taken place before the election as the constitution required. No doubt the electors will give expression to their opinion of the act of disfranchisement which cheats them out of half their representation.—Vancouver News-Advertiser.

Time for a Change

It is true that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's hair is turning grey, that he is nearing seventy, that he has been some forty years in public life, sixteen years in office, fifteen years premier and twenty-four years the leader of his party. For these and other reasons Sir Wilfrid is entitled to respectful consideration, but these are not claims to a further extension of Sir Wilfrid's premiership. Rather they suggest that the turn has come for someone else.

Sir John A. Macdonald's age and long service did not persuade Sir Wilfrid that he should be retained in office. Nor did the years and eminent service of Sir Charles Tupper mitigate the severity of Sir Wilfrid's attacks. The Premier told us in other days that long continuance in office corrupted and weakened an administration, and that frequent changes of ministry were wholesome for a country. We have it on his authority as Opposition leader that the baser elements of the country gravitate towards groups of politicians who are too long in office, and that extended leases of power lead public men to think that they have some divine right to official rule and official pay.

We do not suppose that Sir Wilfrid's best impartial friend will say that his administration is now as strong and representative as in its early days. Sir Oliver Mowat, Mr. Blair, Mr. Sifton Mr. Tarte, Mr. David Mills and Sir Louis Davies had their faults like others, but they were distinguished leaders, with large personal influence, and not mere elements in the party machine. Their successors are not their equals. Sir Wilfrid has reigned longer than was good for his own reputation as Prime Minister. Let any one consider the ministry of which he is now the head, examine the records brought to light in recent years, and he must decide that the good of the Liberal party and the welfare of the country require that Sir Wilfrid and his colleagues should spend a period in opposition.—Vancouver News-Advertiser.

Trusts will Own Canada

Mr. Mackenzie King advocates reciprocity as a means of delivering Canada from the monopolists. But is the agreement not certain to place the whole country in the hands of the grossest capitalistic combinations that ever oppressed one nation and wanted to oppress another? The compact merely adds the Dominion to the domain of the American trusts. Sir Allen Aylesworth proclaims reciprocity to be in the interests of the Canadian people. But is it in their interests to subject them to the rule of a great series of foreign trusts whose whole policy is to squeeze out lesser rivals, and then (having got the entire field to themselves), to force the prices they pay to producers downwards and the prices they pay to consumers upwards.—Toronto News.

Handing Over Canada

The Conservative party in this election stands for Canada's fiscal independence. Mr. R. L. Borden has concisely expressed it as "a course of policy and administration which will maintain independent and unimpaired control over our own affairs by the parliament of Canada." Under the plans of Mr. Fielding and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Canada's hands are to be tied by an entangling trade alliance. Already they have been tied. When the fruit growers of Ontario and Quebec appealed to the prime minister to reconsider the fruit and vegetable tariff concessions in the reciprocity agreement, to do justice to a great industry, which is adding to the prosperity of not only Ontario, but British Columbia, he could only express his regret that they were "so late in the day." In other words the government had made a bargain with the United States to the sacrifice of a basic industry and could only express their regrets. Mr. Borden stated the case very clearly in his London address. "No Canadian," he said, "should be told that our parliament is not free to redress the grievances of the Canadian people, because its hands have been fettered by an entangling trade alliance. Let our fiscal policy be worked out, not by secret diplomatic tariffs under which no injustice can be redressed, but by ordinary parliamentary methods which permit mistakes to be removed. Thus and thus only can we preserve and maintain the true fiscal independence and autonomy of the Canadian nation."

The British Columbia farmer and fruit grower are equally with the eastern Canadian producer of foodstuffs, concerned about this sacrifice of their interests without any compensating advantage being obtained under the reciprocity agreement.—New Westminster Columbian.

Canadians must not forget that by adopting reciprocity they would enter upon a period of agitation, unrest and disturbance.

The United States desires commercial union, free trade with Canada—call it what you will. To them reciprocity simply is a means to that end. This cannot be disputed; the evidence is too overwhelming.

A certain element in Canada, perhaps not very powerful, but unquestionably noisy, looks upon reciprocity in the same light and advocates it as a step towards free trade. This again is a perfectly well known fact. The columns of the Grain Growers' Guide afford ample evidence.

Once reciprocity is put into force, the mass of Canadian farmers will be quick to note that they are deprived of protection while manufacturers still enjoy it. The bargain of 1879 will be abrogated. The tendency will be for the farmer to demand the abolition of the manufacturer's protection.

These circumstances simply mean that the ink will hardly be dry on the ratification before the United States will begin to press us to extend reciprocity into commercial union. The Canadian free traders will back the American proposal with whatever force they can muster. Many farmers will be likely to heed them.

Thus Canada, instead of settling down to do business under the conditions set up by the agreement, free trade in natural products and protection on manufactures, will straightway be plunged into a new agitation.

What do the advocates of reciprocity expect to follow a victory for their policy? Do they intend to move on to commercial union? If they intend to stop short, will they explain two things?

1. How they will prevent a commercial union agitation from springing up.

2. How they will resist such an agitation.—Toronto News.

AGAINST GOVERNMENT

Mr. Joseph Martin to Take Part in Vancouver Campaign—Bad Record of Administration.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24.—"Reciprocity will undoubtedly mean more money for Canada and more money for Canadians and it will be a good thing for Canada in that respect," said Joseph Martin, member of the British house of commons for East St. Pancras. "However, I am not going to support the Laurier government while in Canada." He admitted that he proposed taking an active part in the campaign in Vancouver, where he will renew his ancient feud with the Liberal organization of that city by addressing meetings against the Liberal candidate, Mr. J. H. Senkler. Mr. Martin's stand is that the Laurier government does not meet his views of good government and that therefore, while he favors reciprocity, he will fight the government on general principles.

Mr. Martin left for Vancouver tonight.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the past ten or twelve years has given Canada one of the worst administrations in the world," was Mr. Martin's keynote sentence. Starting from this base he launched into a vigorous attack on the present government.

"I have been condemning conditions that politics have fallen into under this administration for some time, and while I find that some of my friends who have joined with me in this condemnation are supporting Sir Wilfrid Laurier on account of reciprocity, I find myself quite unable to join them.

"I know that there is more political corruption in Canada today than there has ever been, and if the verdict is unfavorable to the government it would mean a condemnation of this state of affairs."

NEW FEATURE FOR VICTORIA'S FAIR

Parker's Shows, Engaged by Vancouver Exhibition Management, Decides to Come Here—Prospects Bright

A feature which is expected to materially add to the life and attractiveness of the B. C. Agricultural Association grounds on the occasion of the Victoria exhibition, which takes place here from September 5 to 9, is the Parker shows. These entertainments have been brought from the East by the Vancouver association management, whose annual event is to be held from the 28th inst to September 2. It was their intention to move from the Terminal City to Seattle, thus sidetracking Victoria. But recent developments have altered their itinerary and have influenced them in coming to the Island. Secretary Sangster is pleased at this turn of the wheel of fortune because the entertainments in question are reported to be high class and very desirable. They will add to the already exceptionally diversified list of sideshows that will be found on the grounds during Fair week.

For the Exhibition proper the prospects never were brighter. It will be remarkably fine. One display alone, namely that being installed on behalf of the Vancouver Island Development league, which will occupy the principal stand in the main hall, promises to be worth the price of admission. It will form the most thorough index into the Island's resources that has ever been assembled. Mr. McGaffey, the secretary of the Development league, is laboring every day in the perfecting of his arrangements. He has secured the assistance of all who could help and, as the show begins to assume shape, the enthusiasm of those who are in touch with the enterprise increases. All the other space, not only in this structure, but in that building reserved for machinery and in that set aside for poultry, is occupied. Much more could be disposed of and already the necessity of increasing the accommodation for next year is under discussion.

The Horse Show.

Entries for the horse show are constantly being received, not only from local horsemen, but from Vancouver, Seattle and other adjacent cities and the probability is that the total will far exceed that of 1910. Mr. Clements, who will again officiate as master of ceremonies, will be in the city several days before the opening day in order to make the necessary preparations to give Victorians and those who will be visiting here the benefit of the latest "stunts" of the metropolitan rings.

There is no doubt that crowds will be here from the Mainland and the Sound, while the representation from the Prairies should be exceptionally strong. The exceedingly cheap rates inaugurated by the C.P.R. are proving most effective in attracting attention to the Pacific Coast. An excursion is to be run from Bellingham, Wash., on one of the exhibition days. Two or three thousand are expected to make the trip.

AMUSEMENTS

Majestic Theatre—Today and tomorrow: "Paul and Francesca," the romance of these famous lovers has been made the subject of many poetical dramas. This version turns on the desire for vengeance of Lanciotto's court fool. It takes place in Italy during the Renaissance, about 1200 A. D. "A Romany Tragedy," the scene in this film is laid among the Corsican gypsies. It deals with the question of honor among those people and the vendettas, which last until the dishonor is avenged. "A Good Turn," the good turn is done by two burglars to a despondent man, who is about to commit suicide. "Trading His Mother," this is a delightful story of a very human small boy. "Polish and Pie," a very amusing picture, showing how a cook mistook varnish for whisky.

Crystal Theatre—Commencing today we will show licensed pictures of such makes as Edison, Lubin, vitagraph, Pathe, Eclipse, Melles, Kalem and Essanay. This guarantees the best in pictures that money can buy. Today's programme is as follows: "How Willie Raised Tobacco," an Edison comedy; "The Tribe's Penalty, a drama of Indian life by the Essanay Co.; "The Sacrifice" a touching sacrifice of love and relationship for the good of the child; "A Fatal Caprice" and "Spreewald," two Eclipse dramas. Besides this programme will be shown a part of the Grocers' Picnic taken on the 17th. This will be shown Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Monday. To every person purchasing three tickets a coupon will be given which will entitle him or her to guess the nearest to majority of candidates in coming Dominion elections on September 21st. To the one coming nearest will be given $50 in gold. Sum it up, the best pictures money can buy, the added attraction of the Grocers' picnic, a chance at $50, and last but not least, to be entertained in a well ventilated and in fact the most comfortable theatre in the city.

ZAM-BUK CURES SUNBURN

Neglect of a sunburn on face, arm or neck often leads to the after growth of skin which is freckled or coarse; and this is particularly distressing to ladies. Timely application of Zam-Buk and regular use of Zam-Buk Soap will prevent this. Zam-Buk is a herbal balm, which soothes and cools the burned skin, and assists nature to replace the damaged tissue with soft, velvety skin. Zam-buk Soap is specially made for tender skins.

Zam-buk is also good for stings, scratches, heat sores, blisters on hands or feet, and all skin injuries. Applied to these it quickly stops the smarting, and ensures quick healing. As it is free from animal fat, and mineral coloring matter, it is particularly suited to the delicate skin of babies suffering from heat rashes, chafed places, etc. Sold everywhere by druggists and storekeepers. Zam-Buk 50c box. Zam-Buk Soap 25c tablet, or box of 3 for 70c.

BASEBALL RESULTS

National.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 24.—The game with Chicago had a sensational finish, Erwin winning for Brooklyn, 6 to 5, in the ninth, with a drive over the fence, with men on first and second. As only two runs were needed, Erwin was credited with only a triple. The locals took an early lead, but Doyle's triple in the seventh sent Chicago ahead. Chicago's third baseman got another triple in the ninh and again put his club in front. In the tenth his single and Wheat's error placed Chicago ahead again. Brooklyn scored the winning run, however, on Erwin's drive.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	5	11	2
Brooklyn	6	9	2

Reulbach, Brown and Archer; Burke, Scanlon and Erwin.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—New York and Pittsburg broke even in a double-header, the contests both being pitchers' battles. Mathewson was bested by Adams in the first game, 3 to 1, a muffed foul in the sixth inning started Mathewson's downfall. Marquard had the better of Camnitz in the second game, holding Pittsburg to two hits which they bunched for their only run, New York winning 2 to 1. Carey robbed Horzig of a home run in the first game by a sensational running catch in deep center. Scores:

First game—	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	3	8	0
New York	1	6	1

Adams and Gibson; Mathewson, Crandall and Wilson, Myers.

Second game—	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	1	2	1
New York	2	4	1

Camnitz and Gibson; Marquard and Myers.

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—The locals won out in the tenth from St. Louis, 8 to 7. The winning run was scored on a single by Jackson, whose sacrifice fly had tied the score in the eighth.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Boston	8	15	4
St. Louis	7	8	0

Tyler and Kling; Salle, Steel and Bliss.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Cincinnati won a fourteen inning contest from Philadelphia today, 4 to 1. Suggs held the locals to one hit for ten innings. In the eleventh Bates received a base on balls off Moore and scored. Philadelphia tied the score on Beck's single, Luders' sacrifice and Titus' single. Cincinnati then won the game on errars, a pass, a double steal and Hoblitz' triple.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	4	12	2
Philadelphia	1	6	4

Suggs, Keefe and McLean; Moore and Moran, Spencer.

Coast.

OAKLAND, Aug. 24.—A lucky home run by Coy with two men on bases in the eighth gave Oakland a 3 to 0 victory over Los Angeles today. Gregory and Delhi engaged in a pitchers' battle which held both teams runless until the eighth. Gregory allowed but three hits throughout the game, and while Oakland gathered nine from Delhi's delivery, he was effective with men on bases and kept the hits scattered until the eighth inning. In Oakland's half of the eighth, Hoffman singled, Wares bunted, advancing Hoffman to second and was safe on Smith's wild heave to second. Cutshaw sacrificed, advancing both runners. Coy hit to left field and the ball bounded over the fence for a home run, scoring Hoffman and Wares ahead of him.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Los Angeles	0	3	1
Oakland	3	9	1

Delhi and Smith; Gregory and Mitze.

PORTLAND, Aug. 24.—Although Seaton allowed only three hits today, Sacramento got two of them in the eighth inning, which was all that was necessary to tie the score, Portland having acquired a lone tally in the third. The Beavers got very busy with Baum when their turn came in the eighth and before the inning ended four more runs had been registered.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Sacramento	1	3	1
Portland	5	10	1

Baum and Thomas; Seaton and Kuhn.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—Stewart had all the better of a duel with Meikle today, and Vernon won, 4 to 2. But for Hosp's error, the Seals would have been shut out. Vernon bunched hits on Meikle in the sixth and scored three runs. In the first half of the seventh, with two out, Schmidt and Holland on third and second, Hosps dropped Ferry's pop fly and both runners scored. McCardle was sent to the club house in the fifth for questioning McCreevy's judgments on balls and strikes.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Vernon	4	9	1
San Francisco	2	8	0

Heikle and Berry; Stewart and Brown.

American.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Chicago hit Quinn opportunely and with the assistance of New York's errors, won the opening game of the series, 5 to 3.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	5	12	2
New York	3	8	3

Walsh and Block; Quinn and Sweeney.

CRACK JAPANESE TEAMS TO PLAY

Vancouver and Victoria Oriental Baseball Nines Compete for B. C. Championship

A real, genuine tit-bit, something exceptionally unique, has been arranged for the delectation of Victoria's baseball fans. Figuring that local enthusiasts have been remarkably long suffering in their faithful attendance at the daily slaughter of the Islanders, the management has arranged something that will be good, something that will wipe away all recollection of the painful past. It is a British Columbia championship game, in which the Nippons, of Victoria, and the Vancouver representative Japanese team will be the principals.

They know the game, do these ambitious little chaps from the Land of the Crysanthemum. There are few of the fine points of the great American National pastime that are a mystery to their inquiring minds and it is confidently expected that there will be a record attendance when the two nines parade in the spot light of the Royal Athletic ball yard on the afternoon of Labor Day, September 4th. That they can handle the ball is demonstrated by the fact that the sport is just as popular in Japan, especially in connection with the different educational institutions as it is on this side of the water. Every year Pacific Coast university teams make a tour of that progressive kingdom of the east and seldom do they return with an unsullied record.

The Japs of Victoria are just as wrapped up in baseball as are their countrymen. They have been playing for several seasons and claim that they they have acquired the proficiency necessary to take into camp their "hated" rivals of the Terminal city. These two nines have met but once before. The scene of the battle was on the mainland and, in the fifth inning the score was 7—5 in favor of the home lads, when rain interfered and the contestants had to leave without deciding the issue.

Ever since they have been keenly looking forward to the time when they would be able to resume the argument. The news that they are going to be allowed to come together before a Victoria audience has delighted the locals beyond measure. They have entered upon a vigorous period of training, their captain is perfecting for them a code of signals which he confidently expects will bewilder the invaders in their execution, and, altogether, they anticipate soundly trouncing the mainland squad. It is almost unnecessary to say that the latter are equally in earnest. Under these circumstances, if the local fans don't see a match that will salve the wounds received in watching the lowly Islanders at work, the indications are exceedingly misleading.

CHILDREN'S REGATTA

Attractive Programme of the Aquatic Sports Arranged for Next Saturday Afternoon at the Gorge.

It wasn't possible, owing to rain, to conclude the aquatic sports of last Saturday which were held at the Gorge under the direction of Mr. Ian St. Clair. This is an annual event and is designed specially for the entertainment of the children, although there are competitions provided for the older folks. The chief events remaining are: The finals for the J. B. A. A. medal, a boys' sculling race, the principals in which are Cecil Hay and V. Palmer; the girls' consolation race, also four events arranged for those who did not win a prize last week. One of the features will be a mermaids' drill, which is to be an exhibition of first grade work. Besides there will be a tragedy in three acts entitled, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep." Provision has been made for the fitting reception of Father Neptune who will arrive at the regatta's close bestowing his blessing on all those who pass in safety while his barber will attend to those who do not. Mr. St. Clair extends a special invitation to those who have children who would like to learn to swim.

"I'd give the business to you but your price is too high."

AND you wonder why.

"Why," you argue to yourself, "is my price too high?" Raw materials, rent, power, heat and wages are in your case no higher than your competitors'. The answer lies not in price of materials, not in advantageous location, not in the scale of wages paid, nor any of these things, but in the practice of an extravagant shop system that renders necessary the employment of more men than actual business needs require because the effort is made to do without the practical assistance of a modern freight elevator. Excessive overhead expenses eat into your profits and drive away business.

Suppose you run a machine shop or factory where parts are stored in the flat above. If there is no other channel of transfer than by the stairway, think of the tremendous amount of extra labor thus involved. Time spent on this work by employes who might be more profitably engaged at something else. Money spent on wages that would otherwise be counted as profit. Expensive hand labor for work which could do far more conveniently, safely and economically. With an Otis-Fensom Elevator the ground floor can be reserved for manufacturing purposes only. Raw materials and parts being stored in the flat above, the work of storing and collecting can be accomplished in one-half the time and with one-third the labor. The initial cost is light, and your regular line shafting can be used if an Otis-Fensom is installed.

NOT TO BUILD WARSHIPS HERE

Ottawa Government Neglectful of Interests of This Coast in Not Providing for Construction on Pacific

ST. JOHN IS THE PLACE SELECTED

Cammell Laird & Co., of Sheffield Understood to be Firm Which Will Build the Canadian Navy at New Brunswick

When the tenders were invited for the construction of the warships for Canada's navy the firms contemplating bids were given a wage scale based upon rates of wages paid in Eastern Canada with the result that the Pacific Coast was shut out from any possible competition. The B. C. Marine Railway company, associated with a prominent British shipbuilding firm, had prepared to tender, but the Ottawa government's action precluded them from doing so, and the interests of the Pacific Coast have been sacrificed. When the naval policy was decided upon it was announced that it was proposed to construct the vessels in Canada at a cost of 33 1-3 more than it would cost to construct the vessels in England, and it was announced that this would aid the shipbuilding industry, but the aid is all to be given to eastern Canada, where the greater voting strength is located. The Pacific Coast is not to be given an opportunity to compete as was expected for the construction of the vessels for the Pacific squadron.

The construction of warships for the Pacific squadron of the Canadian navy at Esquimalt would result in the bringing to this city of at least 4,000 mechanics, and at the usual ratio of three or four persons dependent on each worker, would add from 12,000 to 16,000 to the population of Victoria. The establishment of the necessary shipyards would give a great impetus to the development of the iron resources of Vancouver Island and would be the means of bringing to Victoria's great shipbuilding and repair trade.

The tenders submitted have been placed in the hands of the technical officers of the Canadian admiralty, who will probably make their report after September 21 next, and it is an open secret that Messrs. Cammell Laird & Co., of Sheffield, who intend to locate their works at St. John, N.B., are the lowest tenderers for all the vessels to be built.

Mr. Pugsley's Constituency.

Mr. R. B. Bevis, managing director of the Birkenhead yards of Cammell Laird & Co., when the Canadian Industrial commissioners visited the yards at Sheffield on August 2, said he had strong hopes that the work of building the Canadian naval vessels would be placed with a firm to be established in Canada, which would be assisted, organized and developed by Cammell Laird & Co. He said:

"In the negotiations which were taking place they had pitched upon St. John, N. B., as the best site for the shipyards of Canada. It was a big venture, and one which one looked forward to with, perhaps, a little avidity, but he hoped that it would materialize, and that Sheffield would benefit by the creation of shipbuilding and engineering works in Canada.

St. John, N.B., is the seat for which Hon. Mr. Pugsley, minister of public works, sat, and which he is contesting, and while nothing is being done in Victoria to assist or develop the shipbuilding industry, the bids have been so invited that the Pacific Coast is precluded from competing, and nothing has been done despite the years of agitation to assist in improving Victoria as a seaport in view of the great trade anticipated within a few years, as often pointed out by the Colonist during the past few years.

The following despatch tells of what is held out to St. John, N.B. It reads:

"The tenders for the construction of a dry dock and ship-repair plant, a very extensive concrete breakwater, and two wharves from which the first steamships to carry Grand Trunk Pacific freight from the port of St. John will dock, closed on August 10. Three great British contracting firms submitted tenders, and each deposited half a million dollars as a forfeit. It is expected the contract will be awarded at an early date. These great works involve an expenditure of several million dollars. The works will be located in St. John harbour east."

BUCKMAN SIGHTS VESSEL IN DISTRESS

Steam Schooner Francis H. Leggett Loses Big Log Raft, Which Endangers Coastwise Shipping.

The steamer Buckman at Seattle from San Francisco reports that on Monday morning at 6 o'clock she sighted the steam schooner Francis H. Leggett and the log raft which she lost off Crescent City. A heavy sea was running and as there was apparent danger of the raft breaking up the Buckman left her course, and going within a few hundred feet of the Leggett and her charge, offered aid. The captain of the vessel said that he would be able to get the raft in tow without assistance but requested Capt. Wilson to notify the United States branch hydrographic office at Port Townsend of her position, as the raft might be run down by coastwise vessels in the night. Capt. Wilson estimates that there are 9,000,000 feet of logs in the raft. The location of the Leggett and the raft while the Buckman was maneuvering about them was about forty-five miles above St. George reef and ten or twelve miles off shore.

The tug Relief, which was sent out of Eureka in search of the Leggett, after thirty-six hours of search was unable to locate the vessel. After her return to that port, however, she received word from the steamship City of Topeka that the Standard Oil tanker Atlas had reported by wireless that the Leggett was adrift from her raft in latitude 41 degrees 46 minutes; longitude 124 degrees 39 minutes west and drifting south.

DODWELL ARRANGE SOUND FREIGHT LINE

Steam Schooner Fulton Placed on Regular Schedule Between Victoria and Sound Ports.

Messrs. Dodwell & Co. have inaugurated a freight service to Victoria from Puget Sound ports with the steam schooner Fulton. The Fulton will arrive here on Tuesday and Friday of each week and will sail for the Sound every Wednesday and Saturday. Messrs. Dodwell & Co. are not newcomers to a Victoria-Seattle service, having many years ago operated passenger services between this port and Seattle and Tacoma. The Fulton is a modern steam schooner. The new service is in opposition to a line recently inaugurated from Puget Sound ports to Victoria with the steamer Edith and several small freighters, including the Transport and Fidalgo.

The Empress Van Horne is to be the name of one of the two new Empress liners being constructed for the transpacific service of the C. P. R. at the yards of the Fairfield Shipbuilding and Engineering company of Govan, Scotland, according to a statement made at Montreal by Mr. Bosworth, vice-president of the C. P. R. The announcement made by Mr. Bosworth stated the company would probably honor its former president, Sir William Van Horne by naming one of the new liners the Empress Van Horne. The new steamer will have a capacity for 1,500 passengers and will cost $2,500,000.

JEWS IN PALESTINE

LONDON, Aug. 24.—In a blue book dealing with the conditions and prospects of trade in Syria, Mr. Ernest Weakley, the special commissioner of the Advisory Council to the Board of Trade, gives some details as to Jewish colonies in Palestine.

"The influx of Jews," says Mr. Weakley, "is the noticeable feature in Palestine. They have been steadily coming into the country in increasing numbers since 1882, driven away from Russia and Poland by persecutions, and although measures were taken by the Turkish government in 1887 to prevent the settlement of foreign Jews in Palestine, the restrictions imposed have been ineffective, and have not stemmed the current of immigration. From a total of about 500 Jews resident in Palestine a century ago, their numbers were about 6,000 in Jerusalem in 1861, out of a total town population of 13,000.

"In 1897 it was computed that the population of the city was about 45,000, of which 28,000 alone were Jews. The population in 1900 was about 50,000, the Jewish element then being close upon 30,000, and since then both population and arrivals of Jews have increased rapidly, Jerusalem having today about 54,000 inhabitants, of whom no less than 55,000 to 60,000 are Jews. The Jewish population at Jaffra has also increased, and from about 1,000 souls ten years ago it has risen to about 15,000, out of a total population of 40,000. Large numbers of these refugees are dependent on contributions from abroad, and distress was great during the first years after their arrival.

"Among the schemes undertaken to give relief was the establishment of agricultural colonies in Palestine, and the funds necessary for the purchase of land and the proper settlement of the colonists were given by Baron Edmond de Rothschild. The scheme was entirely philanthropic, each colonist receiving a fixed sum per month, and in consequence there was no inducement to work. The necessity for the change of a system which tended to demoralize rather than help soon became apparent, the payment of fixed stipends to colonists was done away with, and the arrangements made in 1900 resulted in the handing over of the administration of the colonies to the Jewish Colonization Association, Baron Rothschild undertaking to guarantee the association against loss for a period of ten years.

"The new administration has introduced better methods and has taken up the work of developing the colonies on business lines. Orange groves and olive yards are replacing vineyards, almond trees have been planted in large numbers, and industrial enterprises, such as oil and soap making, have been started, while improved methods of agriculture are being adopted in the larger colonies. Results have yet to be seen; the presence, however, of a new element in the land and the efforts which are being made to develop the properties cannot but be of great advantage to the country."

Prince of Wales Residence

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Claremont House, to be the abode of the Prince of Wales on attainment of his majority, is a mansion with a history. Built by Sir John Vanbrugh for the Earl of Clare, it was pulled down by Robert Clive, and re-erected by "Capability" Brown. It was here, in 1817, that Princess Charlotte died in childbirth. Here, too, Louis Philippe found a refuge, after his exile from France, and here both he and his Queen died. The present occupant of the house is the Duchess of Albany, who, however, generally prefers Windsor. Horace Walpole, in a letter to his friend George Montagu, dated August 11, 1748, notes the fact that pine-apples were conveyed from Claremont House to Hanover by couriers. Lord Clive's coming to Claremont was bitterly represented by the Surrey peasantry. They "looked with mysterious horror," writes Macaulay, "on the stately house, which was rising at Claremont, and whispered that the great, wicked lord had ordered the walls to be made so thick in order to keep out the devil, who would one day carry him away bodily.

Business Lots For Business Men at FORT GEORGE

The big money in real estate is made by those who buy business lots at the beginning of a city.

Knowing what you do now, if you had the opportunity of buying at prices prevailing a few years ago, you would not hesitate to buy on Hastings or Granville streets, Vancouver; Main street or Portage avenue, Winnipeg; Jasper avenue, Edmonton; or Eighth avenue, Calgary. You would not be buying at Shaughnessy Heights, Tuxedo Park or any of the outlying additions, no matter how high-sounding the name or how many boulevards or parks they might have, notwithstanding the fact that lots in these additions are first-class investments—but—BUSINESS LOTS FOR PROFIT.

Most people cannot afford to buy business lots in the streets mentioned above at present prices. It is possible, however, to get in at the starting point of what will be undoubtedly a place of as much importance. In making an investment in real estate the necessary thing to do is to pick out the most promising of the prospective cities and examine into their possibilities.

What are their natural advantages?

After you have looked them all over and considered the good and bad points, then you will find out that—

Fort George has every natural advantage possessed by all the others combined.

One of the prospective cities will be a railroad centre.

Another has coal mines.

This one has timber lands.

Another will talk of the fine climate.

That one is the centre of an agricultural district.

Fort William and Port Arthur will talk to you about their water transportation.

Stewart will talk of her mines.

Some other places may have a great waterpower.

Fort George has them ALL.

Don't overlook this point. It means that Fort George has a combination of all the resources possessed by all the other cities of Western Canada (except that she is not an ocean port).

Fort George is the geographical and strategic commercial centre of British Columbia. British Columbia is Canada's largest and richest province.

You should know all about Fort George and British Columbia. Let us send you map plans and official information free. Send your name or call today. You can get in at the beginning if you hurry.

ANIMAL PRESERVATION

LONDON, Aug. 24.—A parliamentary paper has been issued by the Colonial office containing correspondence between the Imperial government, the governments of the African protectorates, and various public bodies and individuals on the subject of the preservation of wild animals. Special interest attaches to the suggestion raised in the course of the correspondence that the common tsetse fly (glossina morsitans) may prove to be a carrier of sleeping sickness, and to further suggestion that this fly might be eliminated by the destruction of game.

Among the published documents are returns of the head of game shot under licence during the year ended March 31, 1910, in the three protectorates of Uganda, Nyassaland and Somaliland. Nyasaland heads the total list, but it is made up principally of large numbers of commoner African buck. Somaliland heads the list of lions killed with 18. Uganda shows by far the largest bag of elephants—142; but the acting governer testifies that this represents a comparatively small percentage of the herds which exist there at the present time, and are becoming a serious source of embarrassment to the native farmers.

Owing to the rapidly decreasing number of licenses which are being taken out, and the consequent immunity of the elephants from attack, these animals, which have always been a source of danger to the inhabitants and of damage to crops, have become still more dangerous and destructive, and they are becoming bolder in approaching inhabited areas. Reports are constantly coming in from administrative officers, telegraph officers, and others of the destruction caused by their devastating habits. It is posible that sooner or later elephants will have to be shot out, save in such portions of this protectorate as may be expressly set apart as reserves for them.

Father Vaughan on Home Rule

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Father Bernard Vaughan, on being asked by some ardent politicians what he thought of Home Rule, said, "I will not answer that question either as a priest or as a politician; but this much as an Englishman: I say fearlessly and deliberately, that if England wants to clasp the hand of friendship with Canada, the United States, Australia and her other dependencies, she must make it clear to them that she has no quarrel at home with Ireland. So long as there is any want of peace and contentment on the Irish floor of the big house called the British Empire there will inevitably be irritation with Ireland among Ireland's supporters and sympathisers all [illegible] at least, to say

CHEERY MESSAGE TO CONSERVATIVES

Mr. Lindley Crease Says a Victory for the Followers of Mr. Borden is Now Practically Assured

It is a cheery message to the Conservatives of Victoria that Mr. Lindley Crease brings with him after completing a lengthy vacation tour which took him as far as England. Mr. Crease says that on his return trip across Canada he found a marked change in the sentiment of the people towards reciprocity; and the best-informed men believe that so thoroughly are the people becoming aroused that the defeat of the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a certainty.

During his visit to England Mr. Crease was much impressed with the amount of interest shown in this province. Everywhere he went he found men who either had money invested in the country or who had relatives here. This province was in greater favor than any other portion of the Dominion. He met a number of financial men who were preparing to invest heavily in the country, the feeling being that owing to the unsettled political conditions in the old Country Canada was a safer field for investment.

Referring to the political situation in Canada, Mr. Crease said:

A Message of Victory.

"Mr. Borden's campaign is meeting with wonderful success, and new adherents are joining the ranks to fight against reciprocity from all quarters. It is significant of the outcome of this contest that the opponents to the pact are fighting with the confidence of victory. They are moved not by party cries or election tactics but by deep and intense feeling that the future welfare and prosperity of Canada, as well as the solidity of the British Empire, is at stake. They are moved, too, by resentment against the attempts of some of the American press to bulldoze us into accepting the pact.

"The expressions of some individual Americans during Canadians to refuse to accept reciprocity now that the American Government has offered it, rouses the temper of Canadians, who are jealous of our national independence.

"They naturally ask: If we are to be subjected to pressure from Americans at this stage, how much more shall we be when they want reduction of the tariff in other items besides natural products; and what may we expect if we should enter into this proposed agreement, and find it does not suit us, and want to withdraw from it, when we have become entangled in it?

"People, too, are alive to the fact that there never has been reciprocity in Canada as the Dominion now exists. The reciprocity of 1854-1866 was before confederation. It applied only to upper and lower Canada. Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and British Columbia were not parties to it.

"If any deductions can be drawn from the effects of reciprocity as it affected Canada in circumstances so different to the existing ones. We might also draw our deductions from the conditions prevailing in British Columbia before confederation, and before the Canadian tariff was in force, when the financial and commercial conditions were so deplorable as to cause grave anxiety for the future development of the country."

NEW GOLD FIELD

Discovery on McClintock Creek, Yukon, Causes Stampede from Carcross and Other Towns

SKAGWAY, Alaska, Aug. 24.—Col. Conrad of Carcross, who arrived from Caribou Crossing last night, reported a great placer gold strike on McClintock creek, which enters Marsh lake, about ten miles from Tagish post, Yukon Territory. A stampede has started for the new gold fields, and the town of Carcross is deserted by everyone who has the right to file on a mining claim. Great excitement prevails in the surrounding towns, and all the boats are crowded with prospectors. Many, unable to get aboard the steamers, are mushing overland.

"Shorty" Austin and Reid Good were on the creek and found a lone prospector at work. He had a hole fifteen feet deep, and although he had not reached bedrock had found good pay. The ground is not frozen, and the gold, which is coarse, appears plentiful.

Austin and Good staked their claims and then hurried to Carcross with news of the strike. Skagway caught the excitement today, and this morning's train over the White Pass road was crowded with gold seekers.

McClintock creek is twenty miles long and has a good country back of it. In the early eighties "Chilcoot Jack" Benson took some prospectors to this creek and told them there was gold there, but the prospectors would not heed him and passed on to Hootalinqua where bar diggings were easy.

IMMIGRATION IS OF HIGHEST ORDER

Glasgow Journalist Declares Canada is Getting Cream of Old Country Departures—Delighted with His Visit

That Canada is at present getting a much better quality of immigrants from the British Isles, and especially Scotland, than ever before is the opinion of Mr. James Cameron, agricultural editor of the Glasgow Herald, one of the most influential of Scotland's publications, who arrived in the city yesterday on a flying visit to the capital before retracing his steps on his return to the Old Land.

Mr. Cameron, who is recognized as one of the leading experts in agricultural and stock-raising pursuits in Scotland, stated that his visit has proved a revelation to him. The remarkable progress which he witnessed on every hand from Quebec to the coast was something of which he had heard, but oft times doubted, but his personal observations have convinced him that the reports are correct.

As a country for the British immigrant seeking a new home and better outlook, Canada, Mr. Cameron is firmly convinced, offers inducements of the highest order. On his trip across the Atlantic he was particularly struck with the high class of the immigrants, the steerage passengers especially showing this characteristic.

On his tirp west Mr. Cameron made special visits to the Macdonald Agricultural college at Montreal, where the excellent arrangements for the education of the students and the practical manner in which the whole institution has been erected to best serve the object sought—a thorough education of the students in the agricultural and allied subjects—pleased him. The Ottawa experimental farm was also a source of delight to the visitor, the planning of the various departments and the great extent of the buildings proving a surprise to him.

On his trip through the prairie section Mr. Cameron had abundant opportunity of studying Canadian methods in farming and his observations lead him to declare that Canada is a great country and only at the beginning of her development. Visits to Edmonton and other points occupied Mr. Cameron's time. He was delighted with his trip through the Rockies and could not speak too highly of the wonderful scenery disclosed to the view of the traveler.

Mr. Cameron only stayed in Victoria a few hours, returning last evening to Vancouver, whence he will immediately start back on route home. While on his trip he has been writing a series of articles for his paper.

Of Victoria and her beauties Mr. Cameron laughingly confessed he had little opportunity of securing first hand information as his stay would be so short, but in the few hours he was here he had seen enough to recognize that this city is one of exceptional location and beauty. He was particularly struck with the prosperous and contented appearance of the people.

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS

Hoodlums in Welsh Towns Make Further Attacks on Shops—Trouble May Soon Be Ended

NEWPORT, Wales, Aug. 24.—Rioting occurred last night at Bargoed, on the Glamorgan border. A dozen English and Jewish shops were wrecked and looted. Troops were called to the assistance of the police and dispersed the rioters.

No further rioting has occurred in the valley towns, but the threatening attitude of the mobs at Tredegar and Rhymny requires the continued presence there of the soldiers. It is reported that Jewish families in other parts of South Wales are taking flight.

The anti-Jewish rioting at Tredegar and adjacent towns was almost entirely the work of hoodlums, who have obtained a small foothold in those places where the force of police stationed there are small. The Jews who suffered attacks were among the most respected of the townspeople, and they indignanty deny the charges of demanding high rents and so far as can be ascertained the complaints against them of exacting complaints against them of exacting exorbitant prices are unfounded.

LONDON, August 23.In the opinion of Jewish residents here, the riots at Tredegr and other Welsh mining towns were indirectly, if not directly, due to the strike ferment, and that once vanished, the present anti-Jewish feeling would die a natural death. Those who hold this opinion are none the less anxious because there are 100,000 Jewish residents in London and many thousands in various parts of the United Kingdom, and the Jews therefore have regarded themselves as safe from persecution in Great Britain.

CURED OF CONSTIPATON

Mr. Andrews praises Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N.S., writes:

"For many years I have been troubled with chronic Constipation. This ailment never comes single-handed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same hopeless condition. It seemed that nothing would expel from me the one ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills.

That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial.

They have regulated my stomach and bewels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine."

For over half a century Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been curing constipation and clogged, inactive kidneys, with all the ailments which result from them. They cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. Sold everywhere at 25c. a box. 2

CANADA'S DESTINY IF TRUE TO HERSELF

Will She Imperil Her Place in Empire?—What the Passage of Reciprocity Pact Would Mean

If reciprocity between Canada and the United States is consummated it will check the rapidly increasing flow of British capital into the Dominion. That, in sense, is the opinion of no less experienced a business man and capitalist than Sir Reginald Macleod,. K.C.B., late under secretary of state for Scotland, as expressed to the Colonist yesterday in the course of an interview at the Empress Hotel where he is a guest at present.

Sir Reginald said on this point: "One of the strong inducements to the investment of British capital in Canada is the feeling entertained by the British capitalist that money invested here remains as much under the British Crown as it would were it in England itself. If any developments did occur tending to bind the Dominion in commercial links more closely to the United States than to Great Britain the tendency would be to lessen the inclination of British investors to regard Canada as practically identical with Great Britain."

Sir Reginald Macleod, of Macleod, is the second surviving son of Norman Macleod, of Macleod, and was born at Dunvegan Castle, Isle of Skye. He was married to Lady Agnes Mary Cecilia Northcote, daughter of the Earl of Idesleigh and has one daughter, Mrs. Hubert Walter, who with her husband, grandson of the founder of the London Times, is also visiting Victoria at present. Sir Reginald was educated at Harrow and at Trinity College, Cambridge, and among the offices he has held are those of Queen's and Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer; Registrar-General for England and Wales and Under Secretary for Scotland. Last year he contested Inverness in the Conservative interests.

To Open Branch in Canada

One of the objects of Sir Reginald's visit to Canada—this is his first experience of Victoria, which he admires exceedingly—is the establishment of a Canadian branch of the Gresham Life Assurance Society, Limited, of which he is a leading director. This society already does a large business in many of the British colonies as well as in many European countries and in India and Egypt, its investments amount to $50,000,000 annually and it has an annual income of $7,500,000. Discussing the establishment of a branch of the society in this country Sir Reginald said yesterday that it was considered desirable to do so in anticipation of the greater population and increasing wealth of this Dominion. The society already had extensive investments here and looked upon Canada now as a favorable field for further investment as the most important colony under the British Crown.

Mr. G. H. Scott, general manager of the Society which has headquarters in London, accompanied Sir Reginald to Montreal where steps are being taken looking to the opening of a main branch there which will gradually establish agencies throughout all the provinces.

Speaking of the likelihood of British investments in Canada increasing in the near future Sir Reginald said there was no doubt of it. Many of his own friends, with large sums to invest, had already come or were coming shortly to Canada to combine business with pleasure and would invariably invest largely as a result of their visits. In this way the advantage would be mutual: Canadian industries would be assisted and the owners of the capital would receive larger returns than they could hope to receive from investments in an old and already highly developed country.

Sir Reginald then made his statement concerning the effect of reciprocity on British investment in Canada and continuing said that he had been informed that reciprocity would pass. He should be very sorry if such proved to be true. Of course, he said, he realized that he had no business to speak for Canada save that he was a British subject just as Canadians were. But, he felt that Canada was doing so well that it would be most regrettable if anything occurred at this juncture to mar the record of her progress. Sir Reginald had felt that Canada's and England's interests were being drawn closer and closer together and that Motherland and Dominion were growing stronger with the years in mutual sympathy and regard. He had believed that the day would come when England would have accorded Canada a preference just as Canada had accorded England a preference. Perhaps this would not have taken place under the present home government; but while that government was strong it would not last forever and a decade at least would have effected the change. The ultimate end would have been, Sir Reginald conceived, the greatest, strongest, firmest and freest Empire the world had ever known, with Canada as the centre and main factor. But now—reciprocity could not but detract from imperial sentiment and the effect of the passing of the proposed pact would be to knock all hopes for an Empire such as he had described into nothing.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE

Before Gregory, J.

In re the City of Nelson Board of School Trustees.

This is an application by the Board for a writ of mandamus directed to the Municipal Council of Nelson to provide the sum of $30,000 to meet the ordinary expenses of maintaining the schools for the year 1911. Although the material before the court does not appear to show it, Mr. Bodwell for the Board admits that the council has provided all the moneys asked for, except the sum of $1,356.16; the council declines to provide this sum on the ground that it is not part of "the current years's ordinary expenses of maintaining the schools," being admittedly made up of items of expenditures of previous years and for the payment of supplies, part of which will not be used until next and the following year.

The Board has issued warrants for the disputed items, to the several persons to whom the same are payable, and Mr. Bodwell expresses the conviction that the same are now debts of the municipality which the holders of the warrants can sue the municipality for and collect. If that contention is correct it seems to me that mandamus is not the proper remedy. The prerogative writ of mandamus is, speaking generally, only allowed where the party has a clear right, and no other appropriate remedy. If debt will lie, there is an appropriate remedy, and the parties entitled should be left to pursue it.

This high prerogative writ is also only granted when there is a clear right. The right here seems to me to be anything but clear; in fact, there is so much doubt arising from the construction of the School Act (B. C. Sts. 1905, cap. 44) that the discretion of the Court should not be exercised in favor of granting the writ.

The School Act undoubtedly requires amending in several particulars, but it seems to me that the general intent is reasonably clear, and there should be no difficulty in operating under it, if both the Board of Trustees and Municipal Council each for itself determined to work in harmony with and not to usurp the other's functions. The present litigation and waste of public monies is unfortunate, but will be justified if it clears the atmosphere and re-establishes the pleasant relations which I presume once existed between the two bodies.

The letter of the Board of the 30th January can hardly be considered as complying with the law of Sec. 42 of the act requiring a "detailed estimate," etc. The Council, on the other hand, appears from its finance committee's report, to be under the impression that it can fix the amount of money which shall be applied for school purposes.

Sec. 39 of the act casts upon the Board the duty of providing schools, etc., and Sec. 38 prescribes that all expenses therefor shall be borne and paid by the municipality, but the Board must (under Sec. 42), as a preliminary, lay before the Council "a detailed estimate of the sums required by the Board for the current year's ordinary expenses of maintaining the schools." As to these moneys, the opinion of the Board cannot be questioned, so long as it acts bona fide, and the moneys estimated are for the current year's ordinary expenses of maintenance; but if it clearly appears that the moneys are for some other purpose, then it appears to me that, however necessary they may be, they must be treated as extraordinary expenses and should be governed by the latter part of Sec. 42 and may be considered, altered or approved by the council, but the council's decision is subject to appeal to the electors.

In no other way does the act appear to provide for the payment of unforseen or extraordinary expenditure which has not been anticipated by the Board. The latter part of Sec. 42 is no doubt primarily intended to cover the purchase of school sites, etc., or expenditures on capital account, but I see no reason why it cannot be used for the purpose above mentioned.

I do not wish to be understood as saying that the city can in any case refuse to pay expenses, unless the same appear in the estimates of either the ordinary or extraordinary expenses. It is quite possible to conceive of expense payable forthwith necessarily incurred after the date for delivering such estimate has passed and before the new estimates are due. In view of the very positive duty of the trustees to maintain the schools (Sec. 39) and the equally positive duty of the council to pay (Sec. 38) for such maintenance, it would be monstrous if the council in the circumstances suggested could successfully resist payment sought to be enforced by proper proceedings, and yet the contention of the council here seems to go that length. I cannot agree with Mr. Maclean's contention that it is optional with the city whether it will pay any deficiency over and above the amount raised by a levy of 5 mills out of ordinary revenue or not.

He relies on the word "may" in Sec 40, but the same word "may" is used with reference to the levying of the five mills, so his argument would lead to the conclusion that it is optional with the city whether it raises any money at all for school purposes or not. Sec. 40 must be read with Sec. 39 requiring the city to pay all expenses properly incurred by the Board, and if the levy of five mills is insufficient, the balance must be paid out of ordinary revenue.

Sec. 43 of the School Act seems to me to be hopelessly involved and it is inconsistent with Sec. 42 in that it requires the moneys set apart for the trustees to be paid to the board, while the previous section requires it to be paid directly to the individuals to whom it becomes payable. There is confusion, if not actual inconsistency in the moneys referred to. The first reference must mean the five mills levy referred to in Sec. 40 and the second reference appears to refer to the same moneys so set apart, as are mentioned in Sec. 42, but properly speaking there are no such moneys mentioned in Sec. 42, which deals only with the estimate for ordinary and extraordinary expenses, and all reference to the government grant, which forms a very considerable portion of the moneys available for school purposes, is omitted. The effect, therefore, of the final clause would be to prevent the school trustees from expending the government grant and would probably only permit them to spend the moneys raised by the 5 mills levy. The whole difficulty arises from the fact that the drafter of the present act failed to appreciate the fact that the whole scheme or plan of administering school funds has been changed since 1891 and yet he has bodily inserted in the new act a clause only applicable to the plan of 1891, under which act the government made no grant to the municipalities, but paid the teachers' salaries directly to them and the municipalities refunded a certain proportion of it to the government. Under the 1891 plan the city had no authority to take money for school purposes out of the ordinary revenue, but raised it all by levy and assessment on the rateable property of the city (Sec. 32, Cap. 40, 1891). Sec. 43 of the present act is, with the exception of one or two minor verbal changes and the last clause, limiting the right of the board to incur any liability beyond the amount to their credit in the school trustees' account, identical with Sec. 35 act of 1891. The reference in it, however, is not to any section similar to Sec. 42 of present act, but to Sec. 32 already referred to, giving the council authority to levy rate sand is therefore more like Sec. 40 of the present act.

The last clause of Sec. 43 first appears in 1892 (Cap. 49, Sec. 18) as an amendment to the act of 1891 and is accompanied by another amendment (Sec. 17 of the same act) giving the council the final voice in setting all school expenditures. The original section and as amended was intelligible and consistent with the act of 1891, under which the council received no government grant, had the final voice in setting school expenditures, paid no moneys out of ordinary revenue, but raised the entire sum necessary by an unrestricted right to levy and assess, but it is out of place in the present act when none of these conditions exist, but on the contrary the council now receives a government grant, pays teachers, is limited in its right to assess to a levy of five mills and has the right to pay moneys out of ordinary revenue. The idea of the section is good, but it will have to be redrawn to harmonize with the remainder of the act before any practical effect can be given to it, without destroying the principle of the act.

Under the Ontario act, Cap. 39, Sec. 71, Sts. 1901, the council is expressly required to levy and collect such sums as may be required by the trustees for school purposes and to pay the same to the treasurer of the school board, and the prerogative writ of mandamus will lie to compel this being done. But under our act, as I interpret it, the duty imposed is to pay, which duty should be enforced by an action of debt instituted by the persons entitled to receive, and not by the present application on the part of the trustees. As I read the act, the council has not as yet failed to perform any clear duty imposed upon it by statute and there is therefore no ground for the present application, which will be refused.

It is perhaps not out of place to say that the school board should always bear in mind that the city has to provide moneys for many purposes, and the board's demands should bear a proper proportion to the other requirements of the city, and the city council should not attempt to control the board in a matter in which the board is supreme.

I regret that I have not time to revise this judgment so as to more clearly express my views.

It does not appear to me that the case of in re Toronto School Board and City of Toronto 2 O.L.R. 727 requires any special comment, the B. C. and the Ontario acts being so different in their terms.

Dying Injunction of Old Milanese Gets His Daughter and Granddaughter Into Trouble

MILAN, Aug. 24.—The last words of the dying are very properly regarded as sacred, but undoubtedly there are occasions when death-bed exhortations should be obeyed not in the letter, but in the spirit. Such, however, was not the opinion of two natives of Ferrara, Maria Zeni, aged 65, and her daughter, Emma, whose story provides the latest newspaper sensation. These two ladies are extremely wealthy, having inherited anything between $300,000 and $400,000 from the father of the elder and the grandfather of the younger. The testator, feeling, as the moral tale has it, that his end was near, summoned his daughter and granddaughter to his bedside, told them his blessing, and added the admonition, which he emphasized by an extended and rythmically beating forefinger: "Remember, confide in nobody, trust nobody, and never sign your names, never, never, never!" Then he died. The two women, who remained to enjoy his fortune, adopted his last words as the guiding maxims of their lives.

Notice is hereby given that the Cameron Lumber Company, Limited, having its registered office in the City of Victoria, British Columbia, is applying to His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada-in-Council for approval of the area plans, site and description of works proposed to be constructed in that part of the waters of Victoria Harbor known as Selkirk Waters, between Point Ellice Bridge and Halkett Island, being on lands situate, lying and being in the City of Victoria, British Columbia and known and described as Lot D and E, Garbally Estate and has deposited the area and site plans of the proposed works and a description thereof with the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa, and a duplicate thereof with the Registrar General of Titles in the Land Registry Office in the City of Victoria, British Columbia, and that the matter of said application will be proceeded with at the expiration of one month from the time of the first publication of this Notice in the Canada Gazette.

They trusted nobody, and therefore employed no servants, their modest meals being sent in to them daily from a neighbouring inn. Part of their money was invested in mortgages, some of their property was leased, but in all their transactions they steadfastly refused to put their names to a piece of paper of any kind. In the savings bank they had a deposit of $20,000, which on one occasion they required to draw out. Glad to get rid of his troublesome clients, the chief officer made the payment in the presence of four witnesses and dispensed with the customary signed receipt.

Recently a mortgagor sought the assistance of the law, and obtained a decree authorising him to pay the sum of $6,000 in redemption of a mortgage, and in this case the two ladies were burdened with the costs of the action. But they would neither receive the $6,000 nor pay the $100 costs due to the public treasury. However, the treasury is an inexorable creditor, and soon a bailiff appeared at the ladies' house in the Via Volta and requested them to open the door so that he might distrain upon their goods. At the first word of the functionary the doors were barred and bolted and the windows were closed. Carabineers were summoned to enforce the decree of the laws. Still no response. Firemen came on the scene, and, hose in hand, prepared to take the house by assault. Two of them scaled the gate of the courtyard, the hose was put through a window, but the birds had flown to another part of the house. At last, while the door was being attacked with axes, a window was thrown open and the terrified women thrust out their heads.

"Open the door," said the bailiff, "we will do you no harm."

"Go away," replied the ladies, "or we will throw ourselves out of the window."

A jet of water caused them to withdraw from the window. Finally the door was beaten down, and the besiegers entered the citadel. The ladies, however, had vanished through a back door, and were seen rushing towards the police-station to demand assistance against "burglars." Then they went to a church, and throwing themselves before a statue of the Madonna, implored her aid.

Meanwhile the bailiff had carried out his task and left the building. The ladies returned unobserved, bolted and locked themselves in the house, and prepared to withstand another siege, as they were convinced by this time that the authorities were protecting a gang of malefactors who were trying to deprive them of their substance.

RUSSIAN BOY SCOUTS

Plan Devised by Military Authorities of Big Empire not Much Like Gen. Baden-Powell's

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24.—Russia is busy with a scheme for introducing into the elecmentary schools, which are all state schools or church schools, some system of primary teaching in military ideals and military drill. The inception of this scheme is due to the initiative of the emperor himself, who some years ago read General Baden-Powell's books on the Boy Scouts, and corresponded with the distinguished originator of that movement. Acting on a hint from the emperor, the Russian war office and other government departments concerned are engaged in elaborating a scheme suitable to Russia, and probably a bill embodying the result of their labors will shortly be introduced in the Duma.

As it stands at present there are not many traces left of anything which a perusal of General Baden-Powell's ideas on boy training can have suggested to any Russian reader. The war office has preferred to go back to that glorious period of Russia's history connected with Peter the Great. As a boy, Peter the Great, residing at a village near Moscow then and still known as Preobrazhenskoe, organized from a number of his noble play-fellows and other children in the neighborhood a military company with arms and equipment. They were called "play troops" (poteshny voysko), and in memory of the playmates of his boyhood Peter the Great in later years named his premier regiment of Foot Guards, when he reorganized his army, the "Preobrazhensky Regiment."

The regiment is still the senior corps of the Russian army, and the body in which the rulers of Russia invariably perform their year's service with a foot regiment. The Emperor Nicholas II. on all occasions when no special reasons compel another choice, appears in the uniform of a colonel of the Preobrazhensky Guards. The regimental march of the Preobrazhensky Guards is one of the most stirring military marches extant, and, in its effect upon all hearers in Russia, may be compared with the "British Grenadiers." The Emperor Paul likewise had a company of "play troops" at Gachina in his boyhood. Then the movement fell into oblivion, until the suggestion of the present emperor recalled its possibilities of development.

What the war office and the educational department propose is to attach to every elementary school a time-expired army non-commissioned officer of satisfactory character in the capacity of the "drill sergeant." It is not proposed to arm the boys with any weapons, so that no approach to a cadet corps is intended; but military marching and simple evolutions, drill and physical exercises as practised in the army, and possibly lessons in aiming with a dummy rifle as recruits are taught on joining, will be included in the programme.
